From the Principal's Desk

Dear Parents, Teachers, Students, and Well-Wishers,

It gives me immense pleasure to present this edition of our school magazine. A school magazine is not merely a collection of articles and photographs; it is a vibrant reflection of the creativity, talent, values, and collective efforts of our students and teachers. It serves as a meaningful platform where young minds express their thoughts, aspirations, and imagination with confidence and originality.

Education in the modern world has undergone remarkable transformation. Today, it extends far beyond textbooks and classrooms to digital platforms, innovative methodologies, experiential learning, and global perspectives. The true aim of modern education is not only to impart knowledge but also to nurture creativity, critical thinking, collaboration, communication skills, and strong moral values among learners.

With rapid technological advancement, smart classrooms, online learning platforms, and virtual resources have become integral to the teaching-learning process. Global organizations such as UNESCO and progressive reforms like National Education Policy 2020 emphasize holistic, skill-based, multidisciplinary, and learner-centered education. These initiatives encourage students to explore, innovate, adapt, and prepare themselves for the evolving challenges of the 21st century.

However, modern education also faces significant challenges. One major concern is the digital divide, where many students—especially those in rural areas and economically weaker sections—lack access to adequate technological devices and reliable internet connectivity. This disparity creates inequality in learning opportunities. Another pressing issue is the increasing academic pressure and intense competition, which often affects the mental, emotional and psychological well-being of students.

Moreover, in the pursuit of academic excellence and career success, the importance of value-based education is sometimes overlooked. True education must shape not only intelligent minds but also compassionate hearts. Discipline, integrity, empathy, resilience, gratitude, and respect for others must remain the strong foundation of our education system.

While we have made commendable progress in technology and digital learning, we are also witnessing certain concerning behavioural trends among today's youth. In some cases, young individuals appear to be drifting away from essential ethical and moral values. Many parents feel uncertain about how to guide and correct their children effectively in this rapidly changing world.

Excessive use of digital platforms and social media has, in several instances, led to emotional distance and reduced interpersonal communication within families. Meaningful conversations are gradually being replaced by screen time. Respect and gratitude towards parents and teachers seem to be diminishing in certain situations, which is a matter that deserves thoughtful attention.

The sense of reverence, humility, and healthy discipline that once guided students must be preserved and strengthened. Respect for parents, teachers, elders, and peers forms the backbone of a harmonious society. Reviving and reinforcing these values require collective effort and consistent guidance from home and school alike.

Discipline-the foundation of strong character and lasting success-must never lose its importance. If neglected, it can lead to undesirable consequences for families, society, and the nation. Therefore, it becomes our shared responsibility-parents, teachers, and community members-to work hand in hand to instill moral values, strengthen healthy relationships, encourage responsible digital usage, and guide the younger generation towards a balanced, disciplined, and value-oriented life.

As an institution, we remain firmly committed to providing inclusive, equitable, value-oriented, and quality education that nurtures academic excellence along with character development. We strive to create an environment where students feel safe, respected, inspired, and motivated to achieve their fullest potential.

I am proud to see our students expressing their thoughts, ideas, and creativity so confidently through this magazine. It truly showcases their intellectual growth, artistic talents, and literary skills. I sincerely appreciate the dedicated efforts of the editorial team-both teachers and students-who have worked diligently and tirelessly to bring out this wonderful compilation. Your commitment, creativity, coordination, and teamwork are truly commendable.

I congratulate all the contributors and encourage every student to continue learning, exploring, questioning, and striving for excellence. May this magazine continue to inspire young minds to dream big, think deeply, act responsibly, and express themselves fearlessly as they progress on their journey of learning.

With best wishes,

Rev. Fr. William Katara

From the Manager's Desk

Dear Students, Staff, Parents, and Well-Wishers,

Every school has buildings... but only a few truly build lives.

With deep pride and heartfelt gratitude, I share my thoughts in this edition of our school magazine — a reflection not merely of achievements, but of dreams nurtured, values embodied, talents discovered, and futures carefully shaped within the vibrant corridors of St. Paul's Sr. Sec. School, Banswara.

Alvin Toffler profoundly observed, "The illiterate of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn." In an era marked by rapid technological advancement and constant change, education must go far beyond textbooks and examinations. At St. Paul's, we are committed to nurturing inquisitive minds that think critically, hearts that respond with empathy, and individuals who act with integrity and purpose.

The timeless words of Nelson Mandela continue to illuminate our path: "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." Inspired by this vision, we strive to shape confident and self-reliant learners who are rooted in moral values and guided by a strong sense of social responsibility. We aim to empower our students not merely to succeed in life, but to make meaningful contributions to society.

We firmly believe that true education lies in the harmonious development of intellect and character. As Martin Luther King Jr. wisely said, "Intelligence plus character — that is the goal of true education." Alongside academic excellence and skill development, we consciously cultivate virtues such as simplicity, discipline, dignity of labour, forgiveness, tolerance, patriotism, resilience, and generosity. Through co-curricular and extracurricular activities, leadership opportunities, community outreach programmes, and value-based education, we ensure the holistic development of every child entrusted to our care.

True to our motto, we remain steadfast in our commitment to providing quality education without pomp or show, at an affordable cost, welcoming students from all classes, communities, and creeds. We take pride in fostering an inclusive environment where diversity is respected and every learner feels valued and encouraged to grow. The accomplishments of our Paulians across the globe stand as living testimony to the enduring strength, vision, and noble legacy of this institution.

Henry Ford once said, "Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success." The steady growth and achievements of our institution have always been the fruit of collective effort — management, staff, parents, and students walking forward in unity, trust, and shared purpose. It is this spirit of collaboration that continues to propel us towards greater heights.

I extend my heartfelt congratulations to our Principal, Vice Principal, and the editorial team for their dedication and creativity in bringing out this magazine. My sincere appreciation also goes to our committed teachers, supportive staff, enthusiastic students, caring parents, and well-wishers whose unwavering cooperation and encouragement strengthen our mission each day.

As we move forward, let us embrace innovation while remaining anchored in our core values. Let us prepare our students not only for examinations, but for life — equipping them with confidence, adaptability, leadership skills, and a compassionate outlook.

Let us continue to believe, as Eleanor Roosevelt beautifully said, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." May our students dream boldly, strive diligently, persevere courageously, and rise confidently to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

May God bless our school abundantly and guide us in all our endeavours.

With warm regards,
Rev. Fr. Nirmal Baria

From the Vice-Principal's Desk

Service to Humanity is Service to God.

"We are not created to be admired, but to love; not to be served, but to serve."

Life is God's most precious gift. None of us came into this world by accident. Before we took our first breath, God had already dreamed of our lives. Each heartbeat carries a purpose; each day holds a mission.

Yet often, in the silence of our hearts, questions arise:

Why am I here?

What is God expecting from me?

Will my life truly make a difference?

The answer is simple-we are here to love through service.

A life lived only for oneself slowly becomes empty. It may appear comfortable, even successful, but deep within, it lacks fulfillment. The moment we begin to live for others, life gains meaning and joy. When the hungry are fed, when a crying heart is comforted, when a child is guided, when the lonely feel remembered-God Himself is loved through our actions.

God is invisible, yet He becomes visible in the people around us.

He waits in the poor for our generosity.

He waits in the suffering for our compassion.

He waits in the broken for our kindness.

He waits in the forgotten for our attention.

Every act of service becomes a prayer.

Every act of love becomes worship.

True greatness is not standing above others, but kneeling beside them. The world measures success by power, position, and wealth-but God measures greatness by the size of our hearts. Titles fade. Wealth disappears. Applause grows silent. But love given in service lives forever.

History shines with souls who understood this truth.

Mahatma Gandhi chose sacrifice over comfort and proved that love is stronger than violence.

Mother Teresa saw Christ in the abandoned and taught the world that small acts done with great love can transform humanity.

Martin Luther King Jr. dreamed of equality and paid for it with his life, yet his love conquered hatred.

Nelson Mandela walked out of prison without bitterness and showed that forgiveness is the highest form of courage.

They did not become great because they were powerful.

They became great because they loved beyond themselves.

Service does not always require extraordinary actions. Sometimes it is found in simple gestures-listening patiently, speaking kindly, sharing generously, forgiving sincerely, and standing faithfully beside someone in pain. Even a smile can restore hope. Even a gentle word can heal a wounded spirit.

At the end of our lives, God will not ask how rich we were, how famous we became, or how successful we appeared. He will gently ask:

Did you love?

Did you care?

Did you serve?

Prayer without compassion is only words. But service done with love becomes living prayer. Whenever we wipe a tear, share our bread, give our time, encourage the discouraged, or lift someone who has fallen-heaven touches earth.

Therefore, let our lives not be a search for recognition, but a journey of compassion. Let our hands become helping hands; our words become healing words, and our presence become hope for someone in need. Let us remember that no act of kindness is ever too small in the eyes of God.

For in the end, the greatest truth remains:

Service to humanity is truly service to God.

The education, skills, and welfare of a nation depend on the well-being of its children. It is our responsibility to nurture their curiosity, love for reading, creative thinking, innovation, and passion for lifelong learning. Children who embrace creativity and think outside the box are empowered to build a bright and meaningful future for themselves and, ultimately, for society.

A nation is built by its citizens, and citizens are shaped by their teachers. Teachers are the true architects of a nation, instilling core values, discipline, and vision in their students. Through guidance and mentorship, they nurture young minds to become visionary leaders who are not only competent but also compassionate towards the needy and underprivileged.

As we present another exciting edition of our school magazine, I am filled with immense pride and gratitude for the collective effort of our school community. This publication is a reflection of the diverse talents, creativity, and hard work that each student, teacher, and staff member contributes to our vibrant school life.

In this edition, we celebrate not only academic achievements but also artistic expression, sporting triumphs, and the wonderful stories that unite us all. From thought-provoking essays and inspiring poems to captivating artwork and memorable school events, this magazine showcases the heart, soul, and spirit of our school community.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to all the contributors for their enthusiasm, dedication, and commitment. Each page of this magazine tells a unique story, and together, they weave a tapestry of memories that we will cherish for years to come.

I would also like to express my deepest gratitude to our Principal, Rev. Fr. William Katara, Manager, Rev. Fr. Nirmal Baria and the Vice-Principal Rev. Sr. Veena for entrusting us with this responsibility and for their constant encouragement and support, without which this publication could not have been accomplished.

As you read through these pages, I hope you share the same sense of pride, excitement, and inspiration that I feel. May this magazine motivate us all to continue growing and learning—not just as students, but as a united, compassionate, and innovative community.

Happy reading!

The staff members and dignitaries assembled in the school auditorium at 9:00 a.m., returning from the summer vacation with renewed energy and enthusiasm. The programme was confidently anchored by Mrs. Nandini Mahant, who conducted the proceedings with grace and poise.

The ceremony began with the traditional lighting of the ceremonial lamp by Fr. Roche, Fr. William Katara, Sr. Veena, and Fr. Nirmal Baria, symbolizing the dispelling of darkness and the ushering in of knowledge and wisdom. This was followed by a melodious prayer song presented by the teachers' choir, invoking divine blessings for the new academic year.

Fr. Nirmal Baria honoured Fr. Roche and Fr. William Katara with garlands as a mark of respect and gratitude for their dedicated service to the institution. A bouquet was presented to Sr. Veena by Mrs. Amita Jha as a gesture of warm welcome. Adding a special touch to the occasion, Mr. Naresh presented a beautifully carved stone portrait as a token of appreciation and remembrance.

The programme continued with an introductory address by Mr. Herbert, who highlighted the significance of leadership in shaping the institution's future. This was followed by a heartfelt farewell speech delivered by Mr. Subhash, who fondly reflected on Fr. Roche's exemplary leadership and unwavering commitment to the growth of the school. The school choir then rendered a touching farewell song dedicated to Fr. Roche, creating an atmosphere filled with gratitude and nostalgia.

In his farewell message, Fr. Roche emphasized the importance of performing one's duties with love, commitment, and dedication. He reminisced about his long and fulfilling tenure at St. Paul's School, Banswara, and expressed sincere gratitude to the staff members for their cooperation, dedication, and support throughout his journey.

Subsequently, Fr. Nirmal Baria formally welcomed Fr. William Katara and Sr. Veena, expressing heartfelt appreciation to Fr. Roche for his invaluable contributions to the institution. He introduced the new Principal and Vice-Principal to the staff and elaborated on the significant milestones achieved by both in their respective fields of service. The ceremony concluded with an inspiring address by the newly appointed Principal, Fr. William Katara. In his speech, he encouraged the staff to work with dedication, enthusiasm, unity, and a strong sense of responsibility to ensure the success of the academic session 2025–26. He emphasized teamwork, discipline, and innovation as the pillars for achieving academic excellence.

Towards the end of the programme, Mrs. Nandini Mahant presented a few poetic lines as a tribute to the new leadership:

Foundation is laid with care and skill,
Upon your wisdom we build our will.
Dreams constructed brick by brick,
By a Principal's touch so astute and quick.
Thank you for each pillar placed,
For every challenge gracefully faced.
Architect of dreams, to you we raise
A salute for the future you embrace.

The staff gathering concluded on a hopeful and inspiring note, symbolizing a new beginning while respectfully honouring the remarkable contributions of the outgoing leadership. The ceremony reflected unity, gratitude, and optimism for the journey ahead.

In 2014, the United Nations proclaimed 21 June as the International Day of Yoga, recognising the immense benefits of yoga, an ancient Indian practice that promotes holistic well-being. Since then, the popularity of this timeless discipline has spread even to the remotest corners of the globe. Yoga has thus provided India with a distinctive identity on the global stage as a land of profound spiritual and wellness traditions.

The materialistic Western world, well known for its technological advancements, has increasingly admired India for its sustainable and time-tested practices in the field of health and wellness. The global observance of International Yoga Day underscores the significance of the Indian yogic tradition in achieving harmony of mind, body, and spirit. It also highlights the universal relevance of yoga in addressing modern lifestyle-related challenges such as stress, anxiety, and physical inactivity.

In line with the efforts of the Government of India to popularise yoga in society, our school observed Yoga Day 2025 with great enthusiasm and active participation. The staff members assembled on the school grounds early in the morning to take part in the programme. The Physical Training Instructors (PTIs) took the initiative in organising the event and demonstrated various intricate asanas and breathing techniques (pranayama) for the staff. Their clear instructions and systematic guidance enabled even hesitant beginners to practise with confidence and ease.

The presence of the top-level school management, including the Principal and other senior members, served as a source of encouragement and motivation for the entire staff. The session not only promoted physical fitness and flexibility but also fostered mental calmness, concentration, and collective harmony. It provided everyone with an opportunity to pause, reflect, and reconnect with inner peace. The programme concluded with a brief meditation session, leaving the participants feeling refreshed, rejuvenated, and energised for the day ahead.

The growing interest in yoga across national and international boundaries affirms the authenticity of its health benefits and the wisdom of its ancient proponents—the sages of India. Yoga is perhaps one of the most holistic remedies, free from harmful side effects, for many ailments that afflict humankind. Therefore, let us resolve to practise and promote yoga regularly and contribute towards building a healthier, happier, and more harmonious world.

ORIENTATION PROGRAMME FOR TEACHERS

At the beginning of the new academic session, on 21st June 2025, St. Paul's School successfully organized an enriching seminar on Art Integration in Education for all teaching staff. The seminar focused on innovative pedagogical approaches aimed at enhancing student learning and transforming classroom experiences. The programme commenced with the auspicious lighting of the ceremonial lamp, symbolizing the spread of knowledge and wisdom. The serene and positive ambiance set a perfect tone for the event.

Mrs. Parul Kothari warmly introduced the esteemed resource person, Mr. Manish Misra, highlighting his significant contributions to the field of education. Mr. Misra is a renowned educator, author, and trainer associated with Headword Publication. His vast experience and deep understanding of innovative teaching methodologies made the session truly insightful. Our respected Father Principal formally welcomed him by presenting a bouquet as a token of respect and appreciation.

Mr. Misra then began the session with remarkable enthusiasm and energy. The seminar was highly interactive and engaging, encouraging active participation from all teachers. Rather than being a one-sided lecture, the session evolved into a collaborative learning experience filled with discussions, activities, and practical demonstrations.

He emphasized the importance of incorporating various forms of art—such as music, drama, visual arts, dance, storytelling, and creative expression—into everyday classroom teaching across different subjects. Through hands-on activities and real-life examples, he demonstrated how art-integrated learning enhances conceptual clarity, creativity, critical thinking, and student engagement. The session introduced several modern and advanced techniques that can help transform traditional classrooms into vibrant and joyful learning environments.

The significance of the seminar was further enhanced as it was conducted on the occasion of International Yoga Day. Just as yoga fosters harmony between mind and body, art-integrated teaching nurtures harmony between creativity and academics, contributing to the holistic development of students.

The seminar concluded on an inspiring note. At the end of the session, our respected Father Principal presented a memento to Mr. Manish Misra as a token of heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for his valuable guidance and enlightening session. This gesture reflected the school's sincere thanks for his contribution to empowering educators. The event marked a meaningful and motivating start to the new academic year, leaving every teacher inspired to adopt creative practices and make learning more engaging and impactful.

Whether you are sketching a new world, writing a story, or standing up to share your thoughts, these activities act as your secret superpowers. ACTIVITIES FOR CLASSES IX TO XII

School is not only about textbooks, homework, and examinations-it is also about discovering talents, building confidence, and developing essential life skills. Co-curricular activities play a vital role in shaping students into confident, creative, and responsible individuals. They contribute significantly to students' holistic development by nurturing them academically, mentally, socially, emotionally, and physically.

From August to January, our school organized a variety of engaging and enriching activities for Classes IX to XII, providing students with valuable opportunities to showcase their talents and explore new interests beyond the classroom.

The journey began on 30th August with the Hindi Extempore Speech Competition. This activity encouraged students to think spontaneously and express their ideas clearly and confidently. It enhanced their communication skills, presence of mind, and stage confidence.

On 12th September, students participated in an English Debate Competition, which promoted logical thinking, teamwork, and the respectful exchange of ideas. Debating not only strengthened their reasoning abilities but also improved their vocabulary, fluency, and command over the language. It also taught them the importance of listening carefully to opposing viewpoints.

Creativity took centre stage on 19th September during the Acting Auditions. Students explored emotions, expressions, voice modulation, and storytelling techniques. Acting activities help students overcome stage fear, boost self-esteem, and develop empathy by understanding different characters and perspectives.

Literary creativity continued on 15th November with the English Poem Writing Competition, where students expressed their imagination, thoughts, and emotions through words. Writing poetry enhances creativity, emotional intelligence, and sensitivity towards language and rhythm.

On 29th November, students once again challenged themselves in the English Extempore Speech Competition. This activity further strengthened their public speaking abilities, critical thinking skills, and confidence in presenting ideas without prior preparation.

Finally, on 20th December, the Snowman Making Activity brought joy, excitement, and hands-on learning. Such creative and practical activities promote teamwork, improve fine motor skills and coordination, and provide a refreshing break from academic routines. They also encourage collaboration and healthy interaction among students.

Overall, these co-curricular activities greatly contributed to the all-round development of students. Mentally, they learned to think creatively and critically. Socially, they developed teamwork, cooperation, and effective communication skills. Emotionally, they gained confidence and self-awareness. Physically, hands-on participation improved coordination and active involvement. Most importantly, these experiences helped students discover hidden talents and build a positive attitude towards learning.

Co-curricular activities remind us that education is not limited to classrooms and textbooks. True learning happens on the stage, in discussions, through creative expression, and in teamwork. Such experiences make school life more enjoyable, meaningful, and memorable.

ELECTION OF OFFICE BEARERS 2025-26

School elections were conducted on 12th July 2025 to elect student representatives for the Student Council. The elections were organized by the School Election Committee under the guidance of the school management. The day arrived with a quiet intensity—a unique blend of excitement, anticipation, and responsibility. For me, as a candidate for the post of Head Girl, it was not just another school event but a defining moment that tested my confidence, patience, and self-belief. I was deeply aware of the trust and responsibility that the position carried.

The journey leading up to the election was both demanding and enriching. The Principal announced the names of the candidates, giving clarity and significance to the process. Weeks of preparation, meaningful interactions with classmates, and moments of self-reflection shaped my understanding of leadership. Preparing my speech was not about impressing others but about expressing my vision sincerely, responsibly, and with conviction. I also realized that leadership is as much about listening and understanding others as it is about guiding them.

The speeches were delivered during the school assembly, a moment I will always cherish. As I addressed the school, my initial nervousness gradually gave way to calm determination. Speaking from the heart, I shared my aspirations for a school environment rooted in respect, inclusivity, and holistic growth. In that moment, leadership felt less about authority and more about responsibility, empathy, and service.

After the assembly, the voting process began. Students from classes VIII–XII exercised their voting rights in an orderly and disciplined manner under the supervision of teachers, ensuring fairness and transparency. As students queued to cast their votes, the atmosphere was filled with anticipation. I felt nervous yet deeply grateful—for the support of my peers, the encouragement of my teachers, and the opportunity to stand for such an honourable role. The process itself reminded me of the democratic values that we often learn about in theory but experience meaningfully on occasions like this.

The announcement of the results was the most emotionally charged moment of the day. The Principal called out the names of the elected office bearers. When my name was announced as Head Girl for the academic session 2025–26, time seemed to stand still. The feeling that followed was not just joy but a profound sense of humility, purpose, and responsibility. I realized that this role was a commitment to serve my school community, uphold values, and leading by example.

Election Day taught me lessons far beyond titles and positions. It reinforced the importance of resilience, sincerity, and service. It also reminded me that leadership is not about power or recognition but about inspiring others, making thoughtful decisions, and contributing positively to the community. As I move forward in my role as Head Girl, I carry with me the emotions of that day—nervous anticipation, heartfelt gratitude, and a strong commitment to lead with integrity, compassion, and dedication.

INVESTITURE CEREMONY 2025-26

The Investiture Ceremony was organized on 25th July 2025, marking a moment of great significance for our school. Despite the limited time available for preparation, the organizing committee worked with dedication and efficiency to ensure the event's success. On the day of the ceremony, everything unfolded smoothly and gracefully, reflecting the meticulous planning and collective effort behind the occasion.

The ceremony began with a warm and respectful welcome to our esteemed Chief Guests, Sub-Inspector Gangaram Ji Meena and Sub-Inspector Abdul Hakim Ji, who were greeted with a traditional tilak and aarti. The presence of parents further enriched the occasion, as they gathered to witness and encourage the newly appointed student leaders, adding warmth and support to the ceremony.

The formal proceedings commenced with an impressive parade featuring the National Cadet Corps (NCC), school captains, vice-captains, house captains, and vice-captains. This was followed by the ceremonial lighting of the lamp, symbolizing an auspicious beginning to the programme. We were then fortunate to hear an inspiring address by our Chief Guest, who encouraged the student leaders to uphold the values of integrity, responsibility, and service, emphasizing that leadership is as much about character as it is about authority.

The programme was further enlivened by cultural performances presented by the students. Graceful dances, melodious songs, and expressive skits added colour and vibrancy to the ceremony, showcasing the creativity, talent, and enthusiasm of the student body. These performances reflected the lively spirit of the school and kept the audience captivated throughout.

The most awaited moment of the ceremony was the oath-taking. As Head Boy, I had the privilege of leading the oath. The Head Girl, Secretary, House Captains, Vice-Captains, and other office bearers were formally invested with badges and sashes. Together, we pledged to uphold the values of honesty, discipline, integrity, empathy, and selfless service, committing ourselves to perform our duties with sincerity, dedication, and a sense of responsibility towards the school community.

The ceremony concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks proposed by our newly elected Head Girl, Himanshi Pandya, expressing gratitude to the Chief Guests, school authorities, teachers, and students for their guidance, support, and cooperation. This was followed by a group photograph session, capturing moments that will be treasured for years to come. The event thus came to a graceful close, leaving behind a lasting impression on everyone present.

On a personal note, being officially invested as Head Boy was both an honour and a humbling experience. The Investiture Ceremony left a deep and lasting impact on my heart. It will always remain a cherished memory, reminding me that leadership is about responsibility, commitment, and serving the school community with sincerity and integrity.

Reflecting on the day, I am reminded of the words:

"Leadership does not demand perfection;
it calls for honest responsibility and a heart committed to serving others."

TEACHERS' DAY CELEBRATION

Teachers are the guiding lights of our lives, shaping our future with knowledge, patience, and love. They not only teach academic subjects but also instill important values such as honesty, discipline, and kindness. Just as a backbone supports the body, teachers support us at every step of our journey, helping us grow into stronger, more confident individuals. They encourage us during failures and celebrate our successes. Truly, teachers form the strong foundation upon which our dreams are built.

Teachers' Day was celebrated with great enthusiasm and respect in our school on 4th September 2025, under the theme "Good Seed in the Hands of a Good Farmer", symbolizing students as seeds and teachers as the farmers who nurture them.

The celebration began with all the teachers standing in a queue and being warmly welcomed by the girls, who presented them with flowers, filling the atmosphere with gratitude and admiration.

The programme continued with the auspicious lighting of the lamp by Father Principal William Katara, Father Manager Nirmal Bariya, Mr. Vijay Soni, and Mrs. Amita Jha, marking a positive and divine beginning to the event. This was followed by a graceful welcome dance performed by the girls of Class VI D, which set a joyful and lively tone for the celebration.

Students then delivered thoughtful speeches highlighting the values associated with the theme, emphasizing the vital role teachers play in shaping young minds and building strong characters.

The celebration concluded with an adorable and energetic dance performance by the UKG students, which brought smiles to everyone's faces. The event was a beautiful reminder of the dedication, patience, and love that teachers invest in us every day, inspiring us to learn, grow, and excel.

The celebration was not only a tribute to our teachers but also a moment to reflect on the responsibility of students to respect, honour, and value the guidance of their mentors.

"You will not always feel motivated. Instead, you must cultivate discipline." - Anonymous

Self-Discipline: The connection between ambition and achievement.

Self-discipline is the ability to manage one's feelings, actions, and desires in the pursuit of long-term goals. It involves resisting short-term temptations, staying focused on objectives, and maintaining consistent effort even when faced with distractions or challenges. Self-discipline is essential for personal growth, academic success, career advancement, and the development of healthy interpersonal relationships. It empowers individuals to navigate life's complexities while remaining committed to their aspirations.

The Significance of Self-Discipline

The importance of self-discipline cannot be overstated; it forms the foundation for steady progress in every aspect of life. For example, it is crucial for following study schedules, meeting deadlines, and cultivating productive habits that enhance efficiency and effectiveness. Individuals who demonstrate self-discipline are often seen as reliable and trustworthy, qualities that strengthen teamwork and collaboration in both academic and professional environments.

Moreover, self-discipline builds resilience—the ability to recover from setbacks without losing focus on long-term goals. Resilience is not merely enduring difficulties; it is the inner drive to persist despite obstacles. Research on delayed gratification by psychologist Walter Mischel shows that individuals who can postpone immediate rewards in favour of long-term benefits often experience higher success and life satisfaction.

The Win-Win Philosophy of Self-Discipline

Self-discipline extends beyond personal gain. When one's goals align with the needs and aspirations of others, self-discipline fosters mutually beneficial outcomes, enhances collaboration, and strengthens supportive communities. In this way, self-discipline becomes not only an individual asset but also a source of collective growth and harmony.

Overcoming Toxic Distractions

Toxic distractions—such as excessive social media use, binge-watching TV, procrastination, and negative self-talk—pose significant threats to focus and personal development. While these activities may offer short-term gratification, they ultimately impede progress towards long-term goals. Learning to identify and minimize these distractions is essential for cultivating self-discipline.

Practical Ways to Strengthen Self-Discipline

1. Set Clear Goals : Define what you want to achieve and break it down into actionable steps. Clear goals provide direction and motivation.
2. Manage Time Effectively : Create schedules, prioritize tasks, and avoid procrastination. Time management is a key tool for self-discipline.
3. Develop Healthy Habits : Incorporate habits like regular exercise, proper sleep, and balanced nutrition to maintain physical and mental stamina.
4. Practice Self-Reflection : Regularly assess your progress and identify areas for improvement. Reflecting helps maintain focus and accountability.
5. Embrace a Win-Win Mindset : Align personal ambitions with the welfare of others to foster collaboration and positive relationships.

Conclusion

Self-discipline is a powerful trait that can be cultivated through consistent practice. It enables individuals to achieve personal goals, build resilience, strengthen relationships, and contribute positively to society. While motivation may fluctuate, discipline ensures steady progress, transforming aspirations into achievements. Ultimately, self-discipline is the bridge between ambition and success.

My Garden A LIVING SCIENCE CLASSROOM

Dear children,

My journey with gardening began as a small hobby, but over time, it became my passion. Today, my garden is full of life, where I grow a variety of vegetables and fruits, including special ones like pineapples and strawberries. Taking care of these plants gives me immense happiness and a sense of accomplishment.

For me, the garden is like a living science classroom. When you grow plants, you can clearly see how sunlight, water, air, and soil help them flourish. Watching a tiny seed turn into a strong, healthy plant teaches you more about science than reading it from a book. Gardening is a hands-on lesson in life, growth, and the wonders of nature.

Gardening also teaches patience, responsibility, and planning. Composting is an important part of this process. At home, we use kitchen waste like vegetable peels, fruit scraps, and dry leaves to make compost. This compost becomes natural food for the plants. By doing this, we reduce waste, recycle nutrients, and learn to care for our planet.

Gardening helps us understand the importance of healthy food. When you grow your own vegetables and fruits, you know they are fresh, safe, and full of nutrients. Eating food grown with your own hands gives you pride and encourages good eating habits from a young age. It also inspires us to respect the effort that goes into producing our food.

In today's world, many children spend too much time on mobile phones and screens. Gardening provides a peaceful break from technology. Working with soil, watering plants, and watching them grow reduce stress, calm the mind, and bring real joy.

Most importantly, gardening helps us feel connected to nature. Plants, insects, birds, and soil are all parts of one beautiful ecosystem. When you see birds chirping, building nests, and raising their babies until they learn to fly, you understand how life grows all around you. Watching a caterpillar transform into a butterfly or seeing earthworms enrich the soil reminds us of the amazing life cycles happening quietly in nature. Experiencing this in your own small garden teaches kindness, care, and responsibility for every living thing. My garden reminds me every day that nature is our best teacher.

I hope you all will try gardening at home. It is not only fun and relaxing but also a wonderful way to learn science while staying close to nature.

RESPECT EVERYONE

Once there lived a boy named Rohan Sharma. He lived with his parents. Rohan respected his parents a lot, but he often spoke and behaved rudely with others.

His parents were unhappy with his behaviour and decided to teach him an important lesson. One day, when Rohan went for tuition, his father called one of his friends and asked him to come to their house the next day for studies.

The following day, Rohan came home from college and had lunch. His father's friend arrived as planned and was asked to behave rudely with the family. When they started to study, Rohan's friend shouted at his mother and rudely demanded water. Rohan saw this but did not say anything. Later, while Rohan's father was talking to someone, his friend shouted rudely again. Seeing this, Rohan became angry and said, "Stop! Why are you shouting at my parents?"

Then his father explained, "Rohan, I asked him to behave this way so that you could understand the importance of respecting everyone." After this lesson, Rohan never behaved rudely again. He learned that respect should be shown to everyone, no matter who they are.

Moral: Always respect everyone, no matter who they are.

DARE TO DREAM

Close your eyes and let your imagination soar.
See a picture of the place
you wish to reach one day.

Let the colour of your heart
take command,
to paint the picture of your dream
and hold it gently in your hand.
Nurture it with care and patience,
but always allow it room to grow.

When you finally reach your dream,
open your hand and let it go.
Close your eyes and search for another,
carrying it with love as before.

Never stop dreaming,
achieving, or letting go,
for that is what dreams are truly for.
Remember, dreams are sparks of hope,
guiding you through night and day.

Each dream you chase, each one you free, shapes the person you're meant to be.

DEEPAWALI CELEBRATION 2025-2026

Deepawali, also known as the Festival of Lights, is one of the most significant festivals celebrated in India. It is observed with great enthusiasm and devotion, as families decorate their homes with diyas, rangoli, and lights to welcome prosperity, positivity, and good fortune. The festival symbolizes the victory of light over darkness and good over evil, reminding us of the return of Lord Rama to Ayodhya after defeating Ravana. It brings families and communities together to share joy, exchange sweets, and strengthen bonds of love and unity.

To celebrate this auspicious occasion, the Green House of our school organized a vibrant Deepawali program on the school campus. The event aimed to spread happiness and to highlight the cultural and spiritual significance of the festival among students.

The program commenced with the traditional lighting of the ceremonial lamp, symbolizing the dispelling of ignorance and the spread of knowledge. This was followed by a soulful prayer song accompanied by a graceful dance performance, which created a serene and festive atmosphere.

The students presented a variety of cultural performances, including melodious songs, energetic dances, meaningful poems, and a short skit depicting the importance of Deepawali and the triumph of good over evil. The skit effectively conveyed the message of righteousness and moral values. A lively Garba dance performance further added colour and enthusiasm to the celebration, captivating the audience with its vibrant spirit and coordinated movements.

The true essence of Deepawali lies in spreading happiness, unity, and positivity. Through the program, students were reminded to remove darkness from their lives by embracing truth, kindness, compassion, and harmony. The celebration not only entertained everyone but also instilled cultural values and a sense of togetherness among the participants.

The event concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by a Green House member. The gracious presence of Rev. Father Manager Nirmal Baria, Vice Principal Rev. Sister Veena, respected teachers, and enthusiastic students made the program even more special. The celebration was colourful, well-organized, and highly appreciated by all present.

Overall, the Deepawali program was a grand success and left a lasting impression on everyone. It truly reflected the spirit of the festival and strengthened the cultural bond within the school community.

SPORTS MEET 2025

Why School Sports Actually Matter

When we think about school sports, we often picture the final score on the scoreboard, the sweat after long hours of practice, or the excitement of a pep rally. However, if we look more closely, sports at St. Paul's Senior Secondary School are about much more than physical fitness or winning trophies.

In many ways, school sports are a crash course in life—one that no textbook can truly provide.

The Annual Sports Meet was held on 10th, 11th, and 12th November 2025 at our school. The playground was filled with cheers, encouragement, and healthy competition. Participants displayed remarkable enthusiasm, teamwork, discipline, and true sportsmanship throughout the three days.

First and foremost, school sports teach the value of discipline and commitment. Waking up early for practice sessions, balancing academics with training and pushing through physical fatigue require dedication and strong time-management skills. These habits help students develop responsibility and perseverance, qualities that are essential for success in life.

Sports also strengthen teamwork and communication skills. On the field, success is never achieved alone. Players must trust one another, cooperate effectively, and work towards a common goal. This spirit of unity fosters strong friendships and mutual respect among students.

Another significant benefit of school sports is the development of confidence and leadership qualities. For many students, sports provide an opportunity to discover hidden talents and overcome self-doubt. Performing in front of an audience, representing one's house, and striving to improve personal performance all contribute to building self-esteem and courage.

Moreover, sports play an important role in maintaining mental health. After long hours of classroom learning, physical activity refreshes the mind, reduces stress, and enhances concentration. Running on the track, playing a team game, or cheering for one's house brings joy and positivity to the school environment.

Most importantly, sports teach students how to handle both victory and defeat gracefully. Winning brings pride and celebration, but losing teaches resilience, patience, and the determination to try again. These experiences shape character and prepare students to face real-life challenges with maturity.

Throughout the week, a variety of games took place. Each house member demonstrated incredible enthusiasm, striving to push their respective houses higher on the score board. Team sports such as volleyball, cricket, football, and basketball were organized for the boys, while the girls showcased their skills in basketball and dodge ball.

After three days of intense yet healthy competition, Red House secured the first position, followed by Yellow House in second place, and Blue House in third place. The winning houses were awarded trophies and certificates and were appreciated for their outstanding performance, coordination, and team spirit.

In conclusion, school sports are not merely about medals, applause, or competition. They build character, promote physical and mental well-being, instill values, and prepare students for life beyond the classroom. That is why school sports truly matter—they shape not just athletes, but responsible and confident individuals.

The multidisciplinary exhibition was thoughtfully organized into subject-themed zones. Groups of students presented projects in various subjects, including Science, Mathematics, Hindi, English, Sanskrit, Art, and Computer Science. Rather than setting up passive displays, each group confidently delivered detailed oral presentations and live demonstrations of their charts, still models, and working models. Many projects reflected real-life applications, environmental awareness, and technological advancements, showcasing both conceptual understanding and practical knowledge.

The school auditorium was beautifully decorated and filled with impressive art projects, adding aesthetic charm to the event. Arrangements for refreshments ensured the comfort of guests and parents throughout the programme. Parents and visitors were highly impressed by the students' confidence, clarity of concepts, and presentation skills.

The atmosphere throughout the day was vibrant and intellectually stimulating. As students explained their methodologies, observations, and findings to parents and guests, they enhanced their communication, analytical, and problem-solving skills. The exhibition provided a valuable platform for experiential learning, teamwork, and collaborative effort.

The event clearly demonstrated that when students take ownership of their learning, the results are truly profound. The school management expressed heartfelt appreciation to the organizing committee, teachers, and students for their dedication, coordination, and tireless efforts in making the exhibition a grand success.

ART: THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL

Art is not just something we see; it is something we feel. It is the silent language of the soul, expressing emotions, thoughts, and ideas that often go beyond words. Through colours, shapes, music, and movement, art gives a voice to feelings that might otherwise remain unspoken.

From early childhood, art plays an important role in our lives. In schools, drawing and painting activities are regularly organised to encourage creativity among students. These activities allow children to express their imagination freely while developing confidence, patience, concentration, and observation skills. Art also improves fine motor skills and enhances critical thinking, as students learn to interpret and create meaningful images.

School exhibitions provide a wonderful platform for students to display their artwork and paintings. These exhibitions showcase hidden talents and reflect the dedication, effort, and emotions of young artists. Each piece of artwork tells a unique story and allows viewers to connect with the artist's inner world. Such events not only appreciate creativity but also motivate students to explore their artistic potential further.

Moreover, art brings people together. It promotes cultural awareness and helps us understand different traditions, perspectives, and experiences. Whether through visual arts, music, dance, or drama, art encourages empathy and strengthens emotional expression. It also provides relaxation and reduces stress, making it an essential part of a balanced and healthy life.

In conclusion, art is not merely a subject taught in classrooms; it is a powerful form of self-expression that grows within us. Through creative activities and school exhibitions, students learn to communicate their thoughts and emotions confidently. By giving art an important place in school life, we nurture imaginative, expressive, and self-assured individuals. When colours brighten our classrooms and creativity fills our hearts, art truly becomes the language through which our souls speak.

CHILDREN'S DAY

THE GENERATION GAP: SURVIVAL THEN, MEANING NOW

The world changes with every generation, and so does life. The gap between our parents and ourselves is not just about age—it is about how we define struggle and what we consider important.

When I sit with my parents, they share their life experiences—growing up in joint families, managing with limited money, and shouldering big responsibilities. Even ten rupees mattered, and every small achievement felt monumental. Their stories are filled with patience, sacrifices, and an instinct to survive. Life for them was about making ends meet, maintaining dignity, and keeping the family together.

Then comes our generation. Our struggles look very different. We do not worry about having food on the table, but we worry about deadlines, constant comparisons, and the need for validation. Every generation has its own challenges—theirs were about survival and security, while ours are about balance, identity, and personal fulfillment. Life does not become easier or harder; it simply changes its form. This is where the generation gap quietly begins.

When we talk about the generation gap between our parents and us, we often focus on differences in lifestyle, technology, or thinking. But the real gap runs deeper. Our parents grew up with fear, respect for elders, and strict boundaries, shaped by limited choices. Today, those boundaries have loosened because the world around us has changed, offering more freedom and possibilities.

For our parents, success meant having a stable job, a steady income, and a secure family life. For us, success means pursuing passions, exploring the world, experiencing new things, building our identity, and even gaining recognition in our own way. Our bucket lists are filled with travel plans, adventures, social media milestones, and personal projects, while theirs were focused on marriage, establishing a family, and fulfilling responsibilities. That is why, when I share my bucket list with my parents, they ask, "Is this secure?" And I find myself questioning, "Is this meaningful?"

Our parents chose their careers and life paths based on values, discipline, and the pursuit of stability. They lived in a time when opportunities were limited, and survival itself was a challenge. We, on the other hand, choose our paths based on passion and purpose, even if it involves risk. Because of this, they sometimes think we are careless, while we believe we are courageous.

Moreover, communication styles differ. They express love through responsibility and care, while we seek emotional connection and validation. Both ways are expressions of concern and affection, shaped by the times we live in. Understanding this can bridge the gap.

The real generation gap is not a clash of values, but a difference in experiences. Both sides are right in their own ways. Our parents seek security because they once lacked it, and we seek meaning because we now have choices. Mutual respect and empathy can help us learn from each other.

Conclusion:

The generation gap exists because they learned how to survive in the world they were given, and we are learning how to live and thrive in the world we inherited. Understanding this difference allows us to honour their sacrifices while forging our own paths.

CBSE SEMINAR ON MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS AMONG STUDENTS

A comprehensive seminar on “Mental Health and Wellness Among Students” was organized at St. Paul’s Sr. Sec. School, Banswara, on 12 December 2025 under the aegis of the Central Board of Secondary Education. The day-long programme, conducted from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., aimed to sensitize educators to the growing significance of mental health in educational institutions and to equip them with practical strategies to foster students’ emotional well-being.

The programme was graciously presided over by the Principal, Father William Katara, whose visionary leadership and unwavering commitment to holistic education continue to inspire the institution. The presence of the Manager, Father Nirmal Baria, and the Vice Principal, Sister Veena, further elevated the dignity of the occasion and reflected the administration’s steadfast dedication to student welfare and well-being.

The enlightening sessions were conducted by distinguished resource persons, Mr. Pramod Jadhav and Mr. Arpit Kumar Srivastava. Drawing upon their expertise and experiential insights, they elaborated on the psychological challenges encountered by students in the contemporary academic milieu.

The deliberations primarily centered on recognizing early indicators of stress, anxiety, emotional turbulence, and peer-induced pressure among students. The speakers underscored the indispensable role of educators in cultivating an empathetic, inclusive, and psychologically safe classroom environment. They emphasized that teachers serve not merely as transmitters of knowledge but also as mentors and facilitators who significantly influence students’ emotional resilience, self-esteem, and holistic development.

The seminar adopted an experiential and participatory approach, incorporating interactive discussions, analytical case studies, role plays, educational games, a skit presentation, and poster-making activities. These engaging components encouraged reflective thinking, collaborative learning, and creative expression among the participants. Teachers were urged to introspect on their pedagogical approaches and communication styles. Practical measures such as fostering mindfulness, promoting open dialogue, dismantling the stigma surrounding mental health, and strengthening parent–teacher collaboration were thoughtfully discussed. Lunch was also arranged for all attendees, ensuring a comfortable and well-organized programme.

The seminar concluded with the profound assertion that mental well-being is as vital as academic excellence in shaping well-rounded individuals. The initiative marked a meaningful stride toward nurturing a compassionate and supportive school ecosystem. The session proved to be immensely enriching and transformative, leaving faculty members better prepared to champion the cause of mental health and wellness among students.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION 2025-2026

On 24th December, our school witnessed a joyful Christmas celebration on the main stage of the assembly ground, thoughtfully organized by Blue House. The entire campus was beautifully decorated with stars, bells, and lights, creating a warm and festive atmosphere that instantly filled everyone with excitement.

The programme began with a heartfelt welcome to the Chief Guest, Sister Cherly, of the revered Mission Sisters of Ajmer, who was greeted by an enthusiastic performance from the school band. This was followed by the lighting of the lamp, symbolizing knowledge and hope, and a melodious prayer song that filled with peace, devotion, and a sense of spiritual unity.

The highlight of the celebration was an exuberant and enlightening skit based on the birth of Lord Jesus, which beautifully captured the spirit of love, hope, and compassion. The performance was further enhanced with graceful dances, expressive acting, and powerful dialogues that conveyed the true essence of Christmas. Each scene carried a meaningful message, reminding the audience of the values of kindness, unity, empathy, and selfless service, leaving everyone inspired and deeply moved.

The school choir then presented soulful Christmas carols that spread joy, cheer, and the festive spirit among students, teachers, and guests. The harmonious voices and rhythmic music created a magical ambience, making the celebration even more memorable.

The programme concluded with the Principal's address, in which our Rev.Father Principal William Katara appreciated the efforts of Blue House for their meticulous preparation, creativity, and excellent organization. He also emphasized the importance of spreading love, sharing, and compassion, not just during Christmas, but throughout the year.

The Christmas celebration was not only a visual and musical delight but also a reminder of the true values of love, sharing, and togetherness. It encouraged everyone to reflect on the spirit of giving and strengthened the bonds of friendship and harmony within the school community, making the day truly unforgettable.

THE POWER OF NEVER GIVING UP

Success does not come easily. Behind every achievement lies a story of struggle, patience, and determination. The true difference between those who succeed and those who do not is often simple - they never give up.

As students, you may face challenges every day. Difficult subjects, exam pressure, competition, or even self-doubt can make you feel like quitting. But remember: every great achievement begins with the decision to try one more time.

Failure is not the opposite of success; it is a part of success. When you fall, you learn. When you make mistakes, you grow. Every unsuccessful attempt teaches you something valuable. Just like a seed must push through the soil before it sees sunlight, so must you push through difficulties to reach your goals. History is filled with examples of people who failed many times before achieving greatness. What made them extraordinary was not luck or talent alone, but persistence, resilience, and unwavering belief in themselves- even when the world doubted them.

As students of St. Paul's Sr. Sec. School, Thikaria, you are capable of incredible things. Your journey may not always be smooth, but every challenge is shaping you into a stronger, wiser, and more resilient individual.

When challenges come:

- When studies seem hard, try again.
- When results disappoint you, work harder.
- When you feel tired, rest if you must – but do not quit.
- When you feel discouraged, remind yourself why you started.

Remember:

- Hard work beats talent when talent does not work hard.
- Small daily efforts lead to big results.
- Persistence is the bridge between your goals and your success.
- Your dreams are worth fighting for-even when the path is steep.

Never measure your success by how quickly you achieve something. Measure it by how bravely you continue despite obstacles, how consistently you improve, and how confidently you rise after every fall.

A few key truths to keep in mind:

- Every challenge strengthens your character.
- Every failure brings you closer to success.
- Every setback sets the stage for a comeback.
- Every step forward, no matter how small, is progress.

The power of never giving up lies within you. Believe in it. Nurture it. And let it guide you toward a bright and successful future.

A SONG FOR PLANET EARTH

A marble spun in velvet night,
Draped in clouds of swirling white.
With oceans deep and mountains high,
Reaching towards the endless sky.
From frozen poles to burning sands,
Life unfolds across the lands.
A heartbeat felt in every breeze
That whispers through the ancient trees.
Rivers sing and forests grow,
Seasons change in steady flow.
A fragile home, a sacred prize,
Reflected in our children's eyes.
To keep the green and keep the blue,
The task belongs to me and you.
Let's guard this world with love and care,
For Earth is precious, bright, and rare.

SAVE EARTH – PLANT TREES

As part of the school's initiative to promote environmental awareness, a Plantation Activity was conducted by the students of Class V on the school campus with great enthusiasm. The event was organized on 6th December 2025 with the aim of spreading awareness about the importance of trees and encouraging students to take care of the environment.

The programme began with a brief and inspiring address highlighting the importance of trees in our daily lives. We learned that trees provide us with oxygen, fruits, medicines, shade, and wood. They also help reduce pollution, prevent soil erosion, and maintain ecological balance. The activity was conducted in the gracious presence of our honourable Principal, Rev. Fr. William Katara and Vice Principal Sr. Veena, along with the teachers of Class V, who encouraged and guided the students throughout the programme.

The students brought a variety of saplings from their homes, including flowering plants, medicinal plants, shade-giving trees, and fruit-bearing plants. These saplings were planted in different areas of the school campus to make it greener and more beautiful. Under the supervision of their teachers, students actively participated in digging the soil, placing the saplings carefully, covering them with soil, and watering them properly.

The activity helped inculcate a sense of responsibility, teamwork, and love for nature among the students. It also taught us the importance of caring for plants regularly so that they grow into strong and healthy trees. The students took a pledge to nurture the saplings and protect the environment by planting more trees in the future.

The Plantation Drive was both meaningful and successful. It spread the important message: "Save Trees, Save Life." The activity reminded us that even small efforts can make a big difference in protecting our Earth and building a greener tomorrow.

THE BONDS OF FRIENDSHIP

The bonds of friendship return to my heart once more,
The golden days we lived, I'm longing for.
That very first day, the first words we said,
Now as we part, those memories spread.
The ones who were once strangers to my eyes,
Have become so special, I can't tell you why.
The circle of friends, the piles of books around,
The laughter & rhymes that in classroom were found.
As I look at those walls, one last time today,
I see my friends smiling in the same old way.
Only a few days left, this company will end,
We'll miss every moment, and every single friend.
One to this city, one to that street they'll go,
Exploring new paths that we don't yet know.
With a final hug and a promise to stay near,
We part our ways, hiding every tear.
We thought M. Hamel's struggle was the biggest of all,
Until Physics numericals made us feel so small!
Between Organic Chemistry and those complex bonds,
We lost our brain cells in those chemical ponds.
"Where is your ribbon? Why is your hair so long?"
The PT teacher's whistle was our daily morning song.
Yesterday, it was a chapter, a story on a page,
Today, we are finally leaving,
us like M. Hamel after an age.
With a TC in hand and hearts full of fear,
We're officially leaving... But we'll miss being here!
The laughter, the chaos, the fun-filled days,
The secrets, the pranks, the countless ways
We learned, we stumbled, we grew, we played,
These memories in our hearts will never fade.
Farewell to the classroom, farewell to the halls,
Farewell to the moments within these walls.
Though new journeys call us far and wide,
The bond of friendship will forever reside.

THOUGHT

"It's not the beauty of the flower that the butterflies chase, It's the nectar inside that they pursue."

Do not focus only on outer beauty; it will fade with time. Instead, develop your character and nurture your inner beauty—it will remain with you throughout your life.

True beauty comes from kindness, honesty, and compassion. When you grow from within, people will be drawn to your inner qualities, just like butterflies are attracted to the nectar of a flower.

META WORLD

How do we live in this meta world?
How can we believe in this meta world?
Nobody wants to be social—social media is the only place to be social.
Children play with their futures in their hands,
mobiles always around like friendship bands.
They don't want to feel the pleasure of nature;
their brains fully engrossed in digital features.
How do we love in this meta world?
How do we move with this meta world?
Humans have become robots,
robots have become friends.
There's no hope for blooms in this barren land.
I wonder how to live in this meta world!

EDUCATIONAL TOUR 2025–2026

An educational tour for students of Classes VIII to XII from Amritsar to Manali was organized by our school during the academic year 2025–2026. The objective of the tour was to provide students with an enriching opportunity to learn beyond the classroom through travel, history, adventure, and cultural exposure.

The tour commenced on 28th December at 6:00 a.m. from the school campus. The group departed by bus and train and reached Ambala Railway Station. After lunch, the students visited the Attari–Wagah Border. The retreat ceremony at the Attari Border was a thrilling and patriotic experience. The synchronized parade, energetic slogans, and lowering of the national flags filled the students with national pride, excitement, and deep respect for the bravery and dedication of Indian soldiers.

The next day, the group explored Amritsar, beginning with a visit to Jallianwala Bagh. The tour operator arranged knowledgeable guides to explain the historical significance of the tragic massacre. The visit was deeply moving and educational, as students paid homage to the martyrs and reflected on the sacrifices made for India's freedom.

Afterwards, the group visited the sacred Golden Temple, one of the holiest shrines of Sikhism. Students admired its magnificent golden architecture and the serene Amrit Sarovar (holy water tank) surrounding it. They also observed the Langar (community kitchen), where free meals are served to thousands of people daily, learning valuable lessons about equality, humility, and selfless service. The students relished the local Punjabi cuisine and purchased a variety of souvenirs from the markets near the Golden Temple. Later, they visited the Maharaja Ranjit Singh Museum, gaining deeper insight into Sikh history and heritage.

After lunch, the journey continued overnight by bus towards Manali, making the travel both adventurous and memorable. Upon reaching Manali, the students had lunch and visited the famous Hadimba Devi Temple, surrounded by breathtaking natural beauty. Later, they explored Mall Road, enjoying shopping and experiencing the local culture. The day concluded with a joyful New Year celebration at the hotel, filled with music, laughter, and togetherness.

The most exciting and unforgettable experience of the entire tour was witnessing snowfall in Manali, especially at Solang Valley and Koksar. For many students, it was their first experience of snowfall, making the moment truly magical. As soft white snowflakes gently fell, the surroundings transformed into a breathtaking white landscape. Taking photographs near the entrance of the famous Atal Tunnel added to the excitement and created lasting memories.

In the afternoon, the students visited the Atal Bihari Vajpayee Institute of Mountaineering and Allied Sports, where they learned about mountain climbing skills and adventure training. Later, they went for a short trek to a nearby village, enjoying the beauty of nature up close. At night, a glowing bonfire accompanied by music and dance created a lively and cheerful atmosphere, strengthening bonds of friendship and teamwork among the students.

The tour then continued to Chandigarh, where students visited Sector 22, enjoying sightseeing and shopping. From Chandigarh Railway Station, the group boarded a train to Ajmer, arriving the next morning. Finally, they returned safely to Banswara by bus in the evening.

The tour was successfully conducted under the guidance of Principal Rev. Fr. William Katara and Vice Principal Sister Veena. The group was accompanied by Mr. Herbert, Mr. Vijay Kumar Soni, Mr. Nishith Bhatt, Mr. Subhash Dindor, Mr. Azmat Rana, Mr. Neeraj Gamot, Mr. Naresh Sompura, Mr. Anuj Peter and female teachers Mrs. Lata Maheshwari, Mrs. Babita Rathore, Mrs. Hency Herbert, Mrs. Sheebha Manoj, and Mrs. Kiran Dixit. Their care, supervision, and discipline ensured a safe, smooth, and well-organized journey.

The educational tour was a perfect blend of learning, adventure, cultural exposure, and enjoyment. It enriched students with historical knowledge, inspired patriotism, encouraged unity and teamwork, and provided unforgettable experiences that will be cherished for a lifetime.

AFTER THE FALL!

I walked in fear, never spoke aloud,
Carried regret like a silent cloud.

I lost my chances, I turned away,
Let "someday" steal too much of today.
The weight of hopes I could not explain,
Thoughts of the future fed the strain.

I fell, I broke, I lost my way,
I blamed my heart for every delay.
But in deep silence, something stayed,
A gentle peace, though the

And under the ashes of all I destroyed,
I found a small hope I once avoided.
May be the fall had something to say,
May be the pain shaped me this way.

MY EXPERIENCE WITH ANXIETY

"Anxiety is something that is a part of me, but it's not who I am." — Emma Stone

Feeling anxious about your career, having self-doubts, facing pressure to be an "ideal" person, or holding opinions different from your friends—all of these can create emotional unrest and confusion. You may feel unsure about decisions and sometimes feel unwanted or misunderstood. However, it is important to realize that self-respect and self-worth form the foundation of inner strength. When we learn to value ourselves, the world gradually begins to recognize our worth as well.

Practical Steps to Overcome Anxiety:

1. Develop or pursue hobbies:

If you don't have any hobbies yet, this is the perfect time to explore your personal interests. Hobbies keep your mind engaged and help channel negative energy into positive, productive activities. Whether it's painting, music, writing, or sports, hobbies provide a healthy outlet for emotions and reduce stress.

2. Start journaling:

Writing down your thoughts can be very therapeutic. Whenever you feel anxious, note both your positive and negative feelings. Reading them later helps you understand your emotions better and release mental stress. From my personal experience, journaling is especially helpful when sharing feelings with others feels difficult.

3. Pause before making decisions:

Confusion and anxiety often make decision-making difficult. It is important to take a pause, reflect calmly, and then decide. Carefully thinking leads to better choice and prevents impulsive actions that may worsen stress.

4. Spend time with parents & grandparents:

Adolescence is often a phase when we feel misunderstood and think everyone opposes our choices. Daily conversations with elders in your family can help provide clarity and perspective. Their life experiences can guide you and help you see solutions you may not have considered. Family members are often the people who will support and understand you without judgment.

5. Practice gratitude:

Often, we wait for big achievements to feel happy. Instead, learning to appreciate small things in life—friends, family, learning opportunities, or even nature—can bring inner peace and emotional strength. Gratitude helps develop emotional resilience and allows you to find happiness even during challenges.

6. Exercise and stay active:

Physical activity reduces stress and improves mood. Simple exercises like walking, yoga, or stretching can release endorphins, which help fight anxiety naturally.

7. Mindfulness and deep breathing:

Practicing mindfulness, meditation, or deep-breathing exercises can calm your mind, reduce racing thoughts, and make you feel more in control. Even a few minutes a day can make a big difference.

Conclusion:

Anxiety is a natural part of growing up, especially during teenage years. I have faced it myself and discovered ways to manage it, which I have shared in this article. Remember, anxiety is only a part of your journey—it does not define who you are. With self-awareness, practical steps, and support from family and friends, you can learn to navigate life with confidence and calm.

NEVER GIVE UP

If I make a mistake,
I must try again for my own sake,
and do it all once more,
even if my heart feels sore.
For beyond each fall and rise,
there always waits a prize.
And this truth makes me realise,
failure is wisdom in disguise.
Even if I lose the race,
or challenges I cannot face,
every setback, every fall,
helps me grow strong and tall.
If I hope for medals and a cup,
I cannot just rely on luck.
I must work hard every day,
and keep distractions far away.
With courage, patience, and strong will,
I can climb the highest hill.
Step by step, I'll reach the top –
that's the spirit of never giving up!

IT STARTS WITH US

"Change does not begin with rules – it begins with people."

It is easy to notice what is wrong around us. We see disorder, carelessness, and indifference in everyday life and often wait for someone else to correct it. But real change does not come from outside – it begins when individuals decide to act responsibly.

The word 'us' carries more power than we realize. It includes every small choice we make in shared spaces – how we speak, how we behave, and how we treat what belongs to everyone. Respect, discipline, and kindness are not automatic; they are built through conscious actions. Every small effort matters and can inspire others to follow.

Progress does not require grand speeches or dramatic efforts. It requires awareness in ordinary moments – choosing responsibility over convenience, care over neglect, and honesty over indifference. When one person acts mindfully, it encourages others to do the same, creating a ripple effect of positive change.

Change grows quietly but steadily when people stop waiting and start acting. And when that happens, society does not just improve; it transforms. True change begins when each of us takes responsibility for our actions, words, and decisions.

"Change doesn't wait for permission –
it starts with us."

SMALL FINANCIAL HABITS THAT SHAPE BIG FUTURES

Many people spend their entire lives working for money because they do not fully understand how financial systems operate until they experience a financial mistake. However, building a secure financial future requires more than temporary effort—it demands the consistent development of healthy financial habits that should begin early in life.

One of the most important financial habits is saving money regularly. Even saving a small portion of pocket money teaches children discipline, patience, and responsibility. This simple practice helps students understand the value of money and prepares them to face unexpected emergencies in the future. Developing the habit of saving also encourages delayed gratification—the ability to wait and plan instead of spending instantly. Over time, this mindset builds financial confidence and security.

Setting basic financial goals is another essential habit. Goals such as buying a book, saving for a course, or contributing towards educational materials teach students how to plan and manage their resources effectively. When students learn to allocate money wisely, they develop budgeting skills that will benefit them throughout their lives.

Equally important is the habit of mindful spending. The ability to differentiate between needs and wants prevents unnecessary expenses. Thinking before making a purchase helps students develop self-control and avoid impulsive buying—a common financial mistake among adults. Maintaining a simple record of income and expenses can further strengthen financial awareness and accountability.

Awareness about savings accounts, fixed deposits, and the power of compound interest can motivate students to make smarter financial decisions. When these concepts are learned early, individuals become more confident and independent in managing their finances.

Another important lesson is responsible debt management. Borrowing money for essential needs may sometimes be unavoidable; however, borrowing to fulfill temporary desires can lead to long-term financial stress. Understanding the difference between productive debt and unnecessary debt helps students make wiser financial choices in adulthood.

In conclusion, small financial habits such as saving regularly, budgeting carefully, spending mindfully, understanding banking basics, and managing debt responsibly may seem minor, but they create powerful long-term results. These consistent practices shape responsible, financially aware individuals who are better prepared to achieve stability and success. The journey towards financial independence begins not with large investments, but with small, smart decisions made early in life.

DEVELOP UNSHAKABLE WILLPOWER

Our ability to succeed is determined less by our attitude towards success and more by our attitude towards failure. Statistics reveal that those who ultimately succeed have also failed many times. The difference between those who fail and those who succeed is simple: failures give up after a few defeats, while successful people continue despite repeated setbacks. One may fail ten times, but victory may come on the eleventh attempt.

Success is a journey. Before reaching the ultimate goal, we repeatedly encounter obstacles and disappointments. True success requires perseverance in the face of difficulty and hardship. That is how mastery is achieved in any field.

Let me illustrate this with an example.

In India, we have the National Defence Academy (NDA), the pride of the nation. In the United States, there is the United States Military Academy at West Point. Admission to such institutions is extremely competitive. At West Point, candidates undergo a highly selective process. Academic records from early schooling are examined. Leadership roles, especially in sports, are considered. Physical fitness, emotional stability, intellectual capability, personality, and maturity are all evaluated. From thousands of applicants, only a small fraction are finally admitted. After admission, cadets undergo an intense initial training program known as "Beast." By the end of this rigorous period, nearly 25% drop out. Interestingly, research revealed that intelligence or physical strength was not the deciding factor. Highly intelligent and physically capable students withdrew just as often as others. The mystery was clarified by research psychologist Angela Duckworth. She identified a key trait among those who persevered: grit. Grit is the combination of passion and perseverance for long-term goals. Those who endured scored significantly higher on this quality. Perseverance, therefore, is an essential ingredient for success. As the saying goes, "Genius is 1% inspiration and 99% perspiration." Great lives are not built through sudden leaps, but through consistent effort while others rest.

Let us draw inspiration from nature.

A man once complained to God, "Lord, my life is in ruins. I have tried enough. I am ready to give up."

The Lord replied, "Do not give up."

The man protested, "But my perseverance has worn out."

God said, "Let me explain. I planted fern seeds and bamboo seeds at the same time. The fern sprouted within days and soon covered the garden with greenery. But the bamboo showed no sign of growth for an entire year. Then another year passed. Even after four years, nothing appeared above the soil. Should I have given up on the bamboo? No. In the fifth year, a tiny shoot emerged. Within six weeks, it grew nearly ninety feet tall."

"What was it doing for five years?" the Lord asked.

"It was building deep roots-strong enough to support its towering height."

Likewise, when we strive to create something meaningful in our lives, growth may not be immediately visible. There is a period of incubation. Foundations are being laid. Character is being strengthened. Roots are growing.

If you aspire to mastery in any field, remember: you will fall during practice. But every fall teaches you how to rise stronger. Learn the art of standing up again and again.

Do not give up.

Your roots are growing.

REPUBLIC DAY CELEBRATION 2025-2026

Republic Day is celebrated every year on 26th January to mark the adoption of the Constitution of India and the establishment of our nation as a republic. It is a day to honour the vision, courage, and dedication of our founding leaders and to reaffirm our responsibilities as responsible citizens.

Our school celebrated Republic Day with great pride and enthusiasm. The Chief Guest, Mr. Priyavardhan Gandhi, along with alumni members, was accorded a traditional welcome with aarti, tilak, and a flower bouquet, adding a cultural touch to the occasion.

The programme commenced with the hoisting of the national flag, followed by the singing of the national anthem, filling the atmosphere with patriotism and reverence. This was followed by a grand parade that showcased the discipline, coordination, and unity of the students.

The highlight of the celebration was a well-presented theatrical drama portraying the journey of India from Old India to New India. The drama began with an engaging skit and was beautifully interwoven with patriotic dances, inspiring speeches, and meaningful poems. Each element was connected to the central theme, ensuring a smooth flow and continuity, which captivated the audience throughout the performance.

The members of PAS were invited to attend the Republic Day programme, making it a vibrant and inclusive celebration. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Krisha Saraf, captain of Red House, who expressed gratitude to the Chief Guest, alumni members, teachers, and students for their support and presence.

The celebration was further honoured by the gracious presence of the Principal Rev. Fr. William Katara, Manager Rev. Fr. Nirmal Baria, Vice-Principal Rev. Sr. Veena, and the alumni batch of 2001. Their encouragement motivated the students to give their best performances and added prestige to the event.

The Republic Day celebration was not only a tribute to our Constitution and freedom fighters but also an inspiring reminder for all students to uphold the values of democracy, unity, justice, and patriotism. It reinforced the importance of civic responsibility and the role of young citizens in building a stronger, united nation.

ST. PAUL'S DAY CELEBRATION 2026

On 24th January 2026, St. Paul's Sr. Sec. School, Banswara celebrated the Feast Day of Saint Paul with great happiness and enthusiasm. Saint Paul is chosen as the patron of many educational institutions because of his undivided attentions to SEEK THE TRUTH and having discovered the Truth, there was no turning back. This programme reminded us of the faith and courage of Saint Paul.

The programme commenced with the auspicious lighting of the lamp ceremony by our respected Rev. Fr. William Katara, Rev. Fr. Nirmal Baria, Sr. veena the Vice Principal, Mrs. Amita Jha Ma'am and Mrs. Hency Herbert. The prayer service was conducted by the students of Classes VII and VIII, which filled the atmosphere with divinity and spirituality.

The programme continued with a wonderful skit performed by the students of Classes VII and VIII, depicting the transformation from Saul to Paul. Saint Paul's life is an example of single-minded devotion to truth. His words truly inspire us: "But I do not count my life of any value to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry. I received from the Lord Jesus to testify to the Good News of God's grace."

This was followed by a beautiful dance performance, symbolising sacrifice and courage. A melodious song dedicated to Saint Paul was also presented by the students. Rev. Fr. Principal William Katara in his speech, inspired us with the values and teachings of Saint Paul.

At the end, certificates for the co-curricular activities were distributed by Rev. Fr. Principal and Rev. Fr. Manager, and the "Vote of thanks" was proposed by Batul Saliyawala of Class VIII. The programme concluded with the school anthem.

POVERTY

Listening to the word poverty,
my imagination drifts to slums,
to empty stomachs and tired eyes.
But the harsher reality is far worse—
these people are denied
both life and death with dignity.
They struggle each day to secure a single meal,
while dreams and desires are pushed aside,
silenced, abandoned.
And still we ask—
how can India rise?
Children trade classrooms for construction sites,
hands meant to hold books
carry bricks instead.
Health becomes a privilege,
education a distant hope.
With such persistent inequality,
can we truly call ourselves wise?
When one section of India's family alone continues to pay the price, while another looks away in comfort,
mistaking growth for progress.
Until dignity reaches every doorstep,
and hunger is no longer inherited,
our pride remains incomplete,
and our freedom—unfinished.

THE HEART OF AN INDIAN MOTHER

She wakes before the dawn's first light,
Hands worn with care, eyes soft yet bright.
In her embrace, the world feels small:
She lifts, she mends, she conquers all.
Her voice is gentle, yet firm and wise,
Teaching lessons that never disguise.
In every meal, in every prayer,
She pours her love beyond compare.
Through scorching days and stormy nights,
She shields her children from their fights.
Her strength is silent, her courage deep,
Her love a treasure we always keep.
She carries home and health as one,
Her sacrifices shine like the sun.
Through sleepless hours and endless care,
She dreams of a life she'll never share.
An Indian mother, steadfast and true—
The heart of a family, the soul of you.
Her laughter warms, her tears sustain,
Her presence alone can ease all pain.
Through every season, come what may,
Her love remains, a guiding ray.
A mother's heart, both fierce and tender,
Is life's most precious, eternal treasure.

A TRULY SUCCESSFUL STUDENT AND THEIR IMPACT ON SOCIETY

In today's world, success in school is often measured by high grades, certificates, and awards. While academic achievement is important, a truly successful student is defined by much more than marks on a report card. A truly successful student develops knowledge, character, discipline, and a sense of responsibility toward society. Such students not only shape their own bright futures but also contribute significantly to the progress and well-being of their communities.

A truly successful student values learning over memorization. Instead of studying only to pass examinations, they aim to understand ideas deeply and apply them in real-life situations. This habit strengthens critical thinking, creativity, and problem-solving skills. When these students grow up, they become professionals who can solve complex issues in fields such as science, medicine, education, business, and technology. Their ability to think independently helps society advance and overcome challenges.

Character is another essential quality of a successful student. Honesty, respect, kindness, and integrity are qualities that shape a person's reputation and influence. A student who practices honesty in examinations and assignments builds a strong moral foundation. In the future, such individuals become trustworthy leaders, responsible workers, and ethical citizens. Society depends on people with strong values to maintain fairness, justice, and harmony.

Discipline and time management also play major roles. A successful student knows how to balance studies, extracurricular activities, and personal life. They set goals and work consistently to achieve them. This discipline prepares them for adulthood, where responsibility and commitment are essential. Disciplined individuals help create organized workplaces, efficient institutions, and productive communities.

Leadership and service are further signs of true success. Many great leaders were once dedicated students who believed in the power of education. For example, Nelson Mandela used his education and strong moral values to fight for equality and justice. Mahatma Gandhi believed that true education is not just about books or marks, but about building character, values, and a sense of responsibility. For him, a successful student is someone who develops both knowledge and moral strength and uses them for the betterment of society. Similarly, A. P. J. Abdul Kalam strongly believed that students are the foundation of a nation's future. According to him, a truly successful student is not just one who scores high marks, but one who dreams big, works hard, builds strong character, and uses education to serve society.

The impact of a truly successful student on society is far-reaching. Such students grow into innovators who create jobs, doctors who save lives, teachers who educate future generations, and leaders who guide nations. They inspire others through their actions and achievements. When young people focus on both academic excellence and character development, they become the foundation of a peaceful, progressive, and prosperous society.

In conclusion, a truly successful student is not defined solely by academic performance but by a combination of knowledge, character, discipline, empathy, and service. Their growth does not end in the classroom, it extends to the betterment of society. When students strive for true success—success that includes both excellence and ethics—they become powerful agents of change who help build a stronger and more harmonious world.

THE JOURNEY OF LEARNING NEVER ENDS

Learning is not confined to classrooms, textbooks, or examinations. It is a lifelong journey that begins at birth and continues until our last breath. Every day, every experience, and every interaction teaches us something new. That is why it is rightly said that the journey of learning never ends.

Learning is one of the most beautiful and transformative journeys we can experience. It is a path without a finish line, for no matter how much knowledge we gain, there is always something new waiting to be discovered. Knowledge expands endlessly, and with it, so do our minds and perspectives.

The concept of lifelong learning reminds us that education does not end with formal schooling. True learning extends far beyond the walls of a classroom. We learn from our families, friends, colleagues, books, nature, and even from unexpected situations. Every lesson we encounter shapes our character, broadens our outlook, and guides us towards becoming wiser and more compassionate individuals.

As we grow, we realize that learning comes not only from success but also from failure. In fact, some of life's most valuable lessons arise from challenges, disappointments, and mistakes. These experiences teach us patience, perseverance, resilience, humility, and self-discipline. They encourage self-reflection and inspire us to improve continuously.

Lifelong learning is the continuous and self-motivated pursuit of knowledge for personal, intellectual, and professional growth. It strengthens our skills, builds our confidence, and opens doors to new opportunities. A person who embraces learning develops critical thinking, creativity, and the ability to adapt to change.

In today's fast-changing world, continuous learning is more important than ever. Rapid technological advancements, evolving careers, and global connections demand that we constantly update our knowledge and abilities. A person who stops learning eventually stops growing. On the other hand, a lifelong learner remains curious, adaptable, open-minded, and confident in facing the future.

Moreover, learning enriches not only our careers but also our inner lives. It keeps our minds active, our hearts open, and our spirits inspired. It fosters empathy, understanding, and a deeper appreciation for the world around us. Through learning, we gain not only information but also wisdom.

Therefore, learning should never be viewed as a burden but as a blessing. When we accept that learning is a lifelong journey, we become better students, better professionals, better leaders, and most importantly, better human beings.

Learning is truly a never-ending journey. Let us make the most of every opportunity to learn each day. Never stop learning, because life never stops teaching. Each new day brings another chance to grow, to discover, and to build a meaningful and purposeful life.

A JOURNEY OF GUIDANCE AND GROWTH

Career Counseling & Health-Fitness Programme for Boys (Classes IX-XII)

Conducted by: Rev. Sr. Veena

On 13 December 2025, our school organized two meaningful and enlightening counseling sessions for the boys of Classes IX to XII. Conducted by Rev. Sr. Veena, the sessions focused on Career Guidance and Health & Fitness. These sessions went beyond textbooks and classrooms, offering practical life lessons and inspiring students to think seriously about their future and well-being.

Exploring the Road Ahead: Career Counseling Session

The Career Counseling session began with an engaging and interactive discussion between Rev. Sr. Veena and the students. Instead of asking about marks or academic performance, she encouraged us to reflect on our dreams, interests, strengths, and passions. This thoughtful and student-centered approach made the session lively, personal, and inspiring.

We were introduced to a wide range of career opportunities - from traditional fields such as medicine, engineering, civil services, and teaching to emerging fields like data science, artificial intelligence, animation, entrepreneurship, digital marketing, and sports management. We learned that the world is evolving rapidly, and with technological advancement, new career opportunities are emerging every day.

Through real-life examples and motivational stories, Sister emphasized that success does not depend solely on marks but also on skills, dedication, perseverance, discipline, and the courage to follow one's passion. She also highlighted the importance of communication skills, time management, continuous learning, and adaptability in today's competitive world.

An aptitude-based reflective activity was conducted in which we wrote down our goals, daily schedules, hobbies, strengths, weaknesses, and habits. This exercise encouraged self-analysis and helped us understand where we stand and what improvements are needed. It motivated us to develop positive habits and eliminate distractions that hinder progress.

By the end of the session, many students felt more confident, focused, and clear about their career paths. It was not merely a counseling session but a source of inspiration that ignited new aspirations and strengthened our determination to work hard toward our goals.

Health & Fitness Counseling: The Foundation of Success

After guiding our minds toward the future, the next session focused on our health-the true foundation of success.

Rev. Sr. Veena emphasized that physical and mental well-being are essential for academic excellence and overall development.

She explained the importance of:

- Balanced and nutritious meals
- Regular physical exercise and sports participation
- Adequate sleep and rest
- Positive thinking and emotional balance
- Effective stress and time management

We learned that a healthy body supports a healthy mind. Simple yet powerful habits such as drinking sufficient water, reducing junk food consumption, practicing yoga and meditation, maintaining proper posture, and participating actively in games were strongly encouraged.

Special attention was given to stress management, especially during examinations. Students were advised to avoid last-minute panic, follow a structured study schedule, and take short breaks to refresh their minds. Sister also emphasized the importance of limiting screen time and maintaining digital discipline.

The interactive nature of the session made it informative and enjoyable. We understood that fitness is not merely about physical appearance but about strength, stamina, confidence, mental clarity, and inner balance.

Overall Impact

Together, these two sessions made the day truly memorable and meaningful. While one session helped us plan our future careers wisely, the other strengthened our present by teaching us to prioritize health and self-discipline.

The initiative was highly appreciated by both students and teachers. It reminded us that education is not confined to textbooks and examinations but also includes character building, value formation, life skills, and responsible decision-making.

This enriching program encouraged us to dream big, remain disciplined, maintain healthy habits, and grow into responsible and confident individuals ready to face the future with courage and determination.

EMPOWERING YOUNG MINDS

Seminar on Career Guidance, Health & Responsible Technology Use for Girls (Classes IX–XII)

Organized by : Indian Red Cross Society

On 12 December 2025, Saint Paul's Senior Secondary School hosted an enriching and empowering seminar for the girl students of Classes IX to XII. The programme was conducted by the Indian Red Cross Society with the noble aim of guiding young girls toward a future built on confidence, health, responsibility, and purpose.

The seminar commenced with a warm and inspiring welcome address by the respected Principal, Fr. William Katara, who graciously welcomed Chairman Mr. Munawwar Hussain and the esteemed resource persons, Dr. R. K. Malot and Mr. Shailendra Saraf. In his address, he encouraged the students to believe in their abilities and reminded them that education, discipline, and proper guidance are powerful tools that can transform dreams into reality.

Career Guidance: Lighting the Path Ahead

The career guidance session served as a beacon of clarity and motivation. The speakers encouraged the girls to discover their inner strengths, identify their interests, and make informed decisions about their academic and professional futures.

They emphasized:

- Understanding one's aptitude and capabilities
- Setting realistic and achievable goals
- Choosing appropriate streams after Classes X & XII
- Exploring diverse career opportunities
- Developing confidence and leadership qualities

The importance of parental support and teachers' mentorship in shaping a successful future was also strongly highlighted.

Personal Hygiene: Confidence Through Self-Care

An equally impactful session focused on personal hygiene and adolescent health. Students were reminded that true confidence begins with self-care and self-respect. Cleanliness, proper nutrition, menstrual hygiene awareness, and emotional well-being were discussed sensitively and informatively.

The session emphasized that maintaining personal hygiene:

- Prevents illness and infections
- Enhances self-esteem
- Promotes mental well-being
- Builds a positive and disciplined lifestyle

The interactive discussion allowed students to clarify doubts and gain practical knowledge essential for their age.

Responsible Use of Technology

The final session addressed the responsible and mindful use of mobile phones and digital platforms. While acknowledging the advantages of technology in education and communication, the speakers cautioned against excessive usage and online distractions.

Students were advised to:

- Set time limits for screen usage
- Avoid harmful online content
- Maintain privacy and digital safety
- Balance academics, family time, and recreation
- Engage in outdoor activities and physical exercise

The message was clear: technology should be a tool for learning and growth, not a source of distraction or dependency.

Conclusion

The seminar left a profound and lasting impression on the students. It inspired them to pursue their dreams with confidence, adopt healthy habits, and use technology responsibly.

The school expressed heartfelt gratitude to the Indian Red Cross Society, the Chairman, and the esteemed resource persons for their valuable guidance and dedicated service. As a gesture of appreciation, the guests were felicitated and presented with mementoes.

The event stood as a proud reminder that meaningful guidance, when offered with compassion and commitment, has the power to shape confident, responsible, and empowered young women of tomorrow.

"Educate a girl, and you educate a nation; empower her with values, and she shapes the future with strength and grace."

FAREWELL: A DAY OF GRATITUDE AND CHERISHED MEMORIES

Farewell is never just a goodbye. It is a moment when memories, gratitude, and emotions come together. After spending many years learning, laughing, and growing within the walls of a school, farewell reminds us how meaningful that journey has been. It marks the end of one chapter and the beginning of another, carrying with it countless experiences that will always remain close to our hearts. For many students of Class XII, this farewell was especially emotional. Having spent most of our school life here, the classrooms, corridors, and playgrounds of the school have become like a second home to us. The familiar sound of the school bell, the busy corridors during breaks, and the countless moments shared with friends and teachers are memories that will always be cherished. Leaving these spaces behind brings both gratitude and nostalgia.

The farewell celebration organized by the students of Class XI on 7th February 2026 was a beautiful reflection of their affection for us. The day began with a warm and respectful welcome. As we entered the venue, the juniors greeted us by applying tilak on our foreheads and showering flowers upon us. This thoughtful gesture made us feel truly special and set a joyful tone for the entire celebration. Soon after the welcome, the farewell program began on the school stage. One of the most touching moments of the program was when our teachers sang a song for us. Their heartfelt performance expressed the affection and blessings they have always given us throughout our school journey, making it a moment that we will remember for a long time. The students of Class XI also mesmerized us with several dance performances. Their enthusiasm, creativity, and dedication were clearly visible in each performance. It was heartwarming to see how much effort they had put into making the program memorable for us.

Fun games were also organized for us, which brought laughter and excitement to the celebration. These games allowed us to participate together, relax, and enjoy the moment as a class. They reminded us of the many joyful experiences that we have shared during our years in school.

One of the most memorable moments of the celebration was when the mementos were presented to us. These were presented by the Fr. Principal and Fr. Manager, which made the moment even more special. The mementos contained photographs of all the students of our class along with the teachers who have guided us throughout our academic journey. This thoughtful gift will always remain a precious reminder of the wonderful years that we spent together in the school.

The farewell program also reflected the supportive environment provided by the administration of St. Paul's School. The guidance of the Fr. Principal, the encouragement of the Sr. Vice Principal, and the vision of the Fr. Manager have played an important role in shaping our journey as students. Our teachers have been the guiding lights throughout these years. Their patience, dedication, and encouragement have helped us grow not only academically but also as individuals. The lessons they have taught go far beyond textbooks and examinations and will continue to guide us in the future.

The celebration concluded with a meal, where we enjoyed the food while spending time with our friends, sharing conversations, and recalling many of the moments we experienced during our school life. As we now prepare to step into a new phase of life, the memories of St. Paul's School will always remain with us. The lively corridors that we walked through every day, the classrooms that witnessed our learning, and the friendships that grew stronger over the years will always hold a special place in our hearts. Though we leave these corridors behind, the memories created within them will stay with us forever.

FROM THESE CLASSROOMS TO THE CIVIL SERVICES

From These Classrooms to the Civil Services

There is something deeply special about writing for the school that once shaped me. Years ago, I sat in these same classrooms with uncertain dreams, never imagining that one day I would be training as an IAS officer.

Back then, Civil Services felt like a distant goal meant for extraordinary people. But today, I realise that this journey did not begin during preparation—it began here, in school, through small habits and values.

In school, marks seem very important—and they are. But what truly sustains you in life is your character: discipline, integrity, kindness, and the courage to keep going despite failures.

“Scores may shine on paper, but character shines in life.”

It is okay if you do not have everything figured out yet. Dreams evolve with time. What matters is curiosity, sincerity, and the willingness to learn.

Small daily habits make a big difference: reading regularly, staying informed, managing time well, and taking care of your mental and physical health.

“Consistency matters more than intensity.”

Failure is not the opposite of success—it is a part of it. Do not compare your journey with others.

“Never measure your life against someone else’s timeline.”

Also, remember to care for your mental well-being. Talk, reflect, and take breaks when needed.

As I move forward, I carry with me the values, lessons, and memories of this school. No success is achieved alone—it is built on the support of many.

“Let success lift your path, not your ego, and let gratitude guide you.”

To all students: It is okay to feel unsure, ordinary, or afraid. You do not need to have all the answers right now. Just keep learning, stay sincere, and show up every day.

One day, you too will look back and realize—it all began here.

With gratitude,

A JOURNEY BACK TO OUR ROOTS: THE PAULIAN HOMECOMING

The corridors of St. Paul's School have always echoed with the laughter and dreams of its students, but on January 26, 2026, those echoes were joined by voices from the past. It was a momentous occasion as 25 alumni returned to their alma mater, most of us stepping back onto these grounds after a staggering 25 years.

The day began with a profound sense of pride as we joined the school community for the 77th Republic Day celebrations. Watching the disciplined march-past and the vibrant cultural performances by the students was like seeing a reflection of our own youth—now renewed with an energy that speaks volumes about the school's enduring excellence and values.

The PAS Society: Bridging the Decades

This emotional reunion would not have been possible without the tireless efforts of the Paulian Alumni Society (PAS). Their dedication in reconnecting former students and coordinating the logistics to bring us all back to Banswara was truly remarkable. The PAS Society has become the thread that weaves different generations of Paulians into one cohesive fabric, ensuring that no matter how far we wander, the way back home is always open.

Cricket, Classrooms, and Constant Laughter

For me and my close friends, the event was more than just a formal gathering—it was a time machine. We spent hours roaming the school halls; surprised at how some corners looked exactly the same while others had evolved with time.

The highlight, however, was returning to the school ground—not as spectators, but as players. Picking up the bat for a game of cricket on the very ground where we once spent our recesses was pure magic. Between the runs and the wickets, we shared stories of our present lives. Yet, for those few hours, we were not professionals or parents—we were simply the "Batch of 2001," cherishing every nostalgic moment and every shared laugh.

A View from the Dais: The Chief Guest Experience

I was deeply humbled and honored to be invited as the Chief Guest for the Republic Day parade. Standing before the national flag on the school stage and looking out at a sea of bright, young faces, I felt a profound sense of gratitude and responsibility.

"Returning to your school as an alumnus is a joy; returning as a guest of honor is a responsibility. Seeing the discipline of the parade and the fire in the students' eyes reminded me that the values St. Paul are instilled in us—integrity, courage, and service—remain the heartbeat of this institution."

Gratitude to Our Alma Mater

We extend our heartfelt thanks to the Principal, the staff, and the organizing committee for hosting us with such warmth and generosity. To meet old friends after a quarter of a century and find that the bond remains as strong as ever is a rare and beautiful gift.

Moments like these remind us that while time moves forward, the foundations of our lives are often rooted in places like this.

"Time may have changed our faces, and the world may have moved on, but the soil of this school ground still remembers our footsteps. We arrived as strangers to our own past, and we left realizing that at St. Paul's, the clock never truly strikes 'goodbye'—it only whispers 'until we meet again.'"

Once a Paulian, always a Paulian!

BLOOD DONATION CAMP

Blood donation is one of the noblest acts of kindness and humanity. Every day, thousands of patients require blood due to accidents, surgeries, serious illnesses, and other medical emergencies. A single unit of donated blood can save up to three lives. It not only helps patients in critical condition but also benefits the donor by stimulating the production of new blood cells and maintaining healthy blood circulation. Donating blood is a social responsibility and a powerful way to contribute to the well-being of society.

Keeping this noble cause in mind, St. Paul's Sr. Sec. School organized a Blood Donation Camp on the occasion of St. Paul's Day in collaboration with the Red Cross Society, Banswara, and the Pauline Alumni Society. The camp was conducted on 25th January from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon in the school premises.

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from teachers, including Mrs. Mridula Ma'am, Mrs. Nandani Ma'am, Miss Anisha Ma'am, Miss Ayushi Ma'am, Mr. Subhash Sir, Mr. Johnson Sir, Mr. Niraj Sir, Mr. Nishit Sir and Mrs. Nancy Ma'am parents and alumni also came forward to donate blood, demonstrating their sense of responsibility and compassion towards society.

The school made excellent arrangements to ensure the smooth and safe conduct of the camp. A team of qualified medical professionals was present to supervise the process. Before donating blood, each donor underwent a proper medical check-up to ensure they were physically fit. All necessary safety measures, hygiene standards, and medical protocols were strictly followed to ensure the well-being of the donors.

The Blood Donation Camp was a grand success and proved that collective efforts can make a significant difference in society. The event not only helped save precious lives but also spread awareness about the importance of voluntary blood donation. Through this initiative, St. Paul's Sr. Sec. School once again demonstrated its commitment to social responsibility, empathy, and humanitarian values.

स्वयं से संघर्ष, स्वयं से उत्कर्ष 'खुद से बेहतर बनने की चुनौती'

जीवन में सबसे बड़ी प्रतियोगिता किसी और से नहीं, बल्कि स्वयं से होती है। खुद से बेहतर बनने की चुनौती हमें हर दिन यह सिखाती है कि हम कल से थोड़ा बेहतर कैसे बन सकते हैं। यही सोच व्यक्ति को निरंतर आगे बढ़ने की प्रेरणा देती है।

आज का विद्यार्थी अनेक चुनौतियों से घिरा है - परीक्षाओं का दबाव, तुलना की भावना, और डिजिटल दुनिया के आकर्षण। ऐसे समय में यदि वह दूसरों से आगे निकलने के बजाय स्वयं को बेहतर बनाने पर ध्यान दे, तो सफलता अपने आप उसका साथ देती है। जब छात्र अपने कल के प्रदर्शन से आज की तुलना करता है, तभी वास्तविक प्रगति होती है। खुद से बेहतर बनने का अर्थ है अपनी कमियों को पहचानना और उन्हें सुधारने का साहस रखना। इसका मतलब है - आज का समय कल से बेहतर उपयोग करना, असफलताओं से सीखना और हार न मानना। यह चुनौती हमें अनुशासन, धैर्य और आत्मविश्वास सिखाती है।

एक शिक्षक के रूप में मेरा अनुभव कहता है कि जो विद्यार्थी स्वयं को बेहतर बनाने का संकल्प लेते हैं, वे धीरे-धीरे असाधारण परिणाम प्राप्त करते हैं। वे प्रश्न पूछने से नहीं डरते, नए प्रयास करते हैं और आलोचना को भी सकारात्मक रूप में स्वीकार करते हैं।

अंततः, जब विद्यार्थी यह समझ लेते हैं कि हर दिन खुद से बेहतर बनना ही सफलता की सच्ची कुंजी है, तब वे न केवल अच्छे विद्यार्थी बनते हैं, बल्कि जिम्मेदार और आत्मनिर्भर नागरिक भी बनते हैं। याद रखिए - आज का बेहतर प्रयास ही कल की बड़ी सफलता का आधार है। "दूसरों से नहीं, खुद से आगे बढ़ने की होड़ ही सच्ची जीत है।"

रिक्तमन की साधना (प्रेरक लघुकथा)

एक बार की बात है। संगीत के प्रति अपार प्रेम रखने वाला एक किशोर अपने जीवन को सुरों से सजाना चाहता था। उसे विश्वास था कि संगीत ही उसका भविष्य है। इसी दृढ़ निश्चय के साथ वह एक प्रसिद्ध संगीताचार्य के आश्रम पहुँचा।

किशोर ने विनम्र स्वर में कहा।

“गुरुदेव, मैं संगीत सीखना चाहता हूँ। मेरे लिए संगीत केवल कला नहीं, जीवन की साधना है।”

आचार्य मुस्कुराए और बोले।

“यदि तुम्हारी चाह सच्ची है, तो शिक्षा अवश्य मिलेगी।”

यह सुनकर किशोर ने उत्सुकता से पूछा।

“गुरुदेव, इसके बदले मुझे क्या करना होगा?”

आचार्य ने शांत भाव से उत्तर दिया।

“तुम्हें सौ स्वर्ण मुद्राएँ देनी होंगी।”

किशोर कुछ क्षण ठिठक गया। उसने कहा।

“गुरुदेव, मुझे संगीत का थोड़ा ज्ञान पहले से है, फिर भी इतना मूल्य?”

आचार्य गंभीर होकर बोले।

“यदि तुम्हें पहले से कुछ आता है, तो मूल्य और अधिक होगा।”

किशोर चकित रह गया। आचार्य ने समझाया।

“सीखने से पहले मन को रिक्त करना पड़ता है। भरे हुए पात्र में नया जल नहीं भरा जा सकता। अधूरा ज्ञान अक्सर सीखने की राह में बाधा बन जाता है।”

उन्होंने आगे कहा।

“ज्ञान, कला और जीवन तीनों में आगे बढ़ने के लिए अहंकार, भ्रम और पूर्व धारणाओं को त्यागना आवश्यक है। खाली मन ही सच्चा शिष्य बन सकता है।”

किशोर ने शीश झुका लिया। उस दिन उसने समझ लिया कि सच्ची शिक्षा बाहर से नहीं, भीतर की तैयारी से शुरू होती है।

संदेश:-

सीखने के लिए पहले स्वयं को खाली करना पड़ता है; रिक्त मन ही नए ज्ञान का सही पात्र बनता है।

सच्चाई का संगीत (लघुकथा)

एक काल्पनिक गाँव था, जिसका नाम नाद गाँव था। इस गाँव की सबसे अनोखी बात यह थी कि वहाँ रहने वाले लोगों के दिल की धड़कन बाहर सबको सुनाई देती थी।

नियम यह था कि यदि कोई व्यक्ति सच बोलता और अच्छी सोच रखता, तो उसके दिल की धड़कन से मधुर संगीत निकलता था। लेकिन यदि कोई व्यक्ति झूठ बोलता या बुरा सोचता, तो उसके सीने से शोर, अर्थात् कर्कश आवाज़ निकलती थी, जो सबको परेशान कर देती थी।

गाँव में सोहन नाम का एक आदमी रहता था। वह बहुत अमीर बनना चाहता था। इसी लालच में उसने एक ऐसी मशीन बनाई, जो उसके दिल की आवाज़ को बाहर जाने से रोक देती थी। अब सोहन झूठ बोलता, दूसरों को धोखा देता, लेकिन किसी को कुछ सुनाई नहीं देता था, क्योंकि उसका सीना खामोश रहता था। बाकी गाँव वालों के दिलों से हमेशा कोई न कोई मधुर धुन निकलती रहती थी, जिससे पूरा गाँव किसी उत्सव जैसा लगता था। लेकिन सोहन का घर हमेशा सुनसान और उदास रहता था।

एक दिन गाँव में एक छोटा बच्चा बीमार हो गया। उसे बचाने के लिए एक ऐसी दवा चाहिए थी, जो केवल पहाड़ के पार मिलती थी। सोहन के पास एक तेज़ घोड़ा था, लेकिन उसने झूठ कह दिया कि उसका घोड़ा बीमार है, ताकि उसे मेहनत न करनी पड़े। क्योंकि उसने मशीन लगा रखी थी, इसलिए किसी को उसके झूठ का शोर सुनाई नहीं दिया। उसी समय सोहन ने देखा कि उस छोटे बच्चे की धड़कन से एक बहुत ही करुण और धीमी धुन निकल रही थी, मानो वह मदद की गुहार लगा रही हो। उस धुन ने सोहन के पत्थर जैसे दिल को छू लिया। अचानक सोहन को महसूस हुआ कि यह मशीन उसे बचा नहीं रही थी, बल्कि उसे और भी अकेला बना रही थी। उसने तुरंत मशीन उतार फेंकी। जैसे ही मशीन हटी, उसके सीने से एक भयानक कर्कश शोर निकला, क्योंकि वह अभी तक झूठ बोल रहा था। सोहन को गहरी शर्मिंदगी हुई। उसने तुरंत सच स्वीकार किया। अपना घोड़ा निकाला और पहाड़ के पार से दवा ले आया। जब वह वापस लौटा, तो उसके सीने से निकलने वाला शोर एक खूबसूरत और शांत संगीत में बदल चुका था।

संदेश :- हम दुनिया से अपनी बुराइयाँ छिपा सकते हैं, लेकिन अपनी अंतरात्मा की आवाज़ से नहीं बच सकते। सच्ची शांति और मधुरता केवल ईमानदारी में ही है।

गुरु की महत्ता : (कविता)

जीवन में एक अच्छा शिक्षक, एक अच्छा गुरु मिलना एक शिष्य के लिए अत्यंत आवश्यक है। एक अच्छा गुरु, किसी का भी जीवन सही मार्ग पर लगा सकता है। ये मेरा सौभाग्य है, कि... मुझे मेरे जीवन में बहुत अच्छे शिक्षक मिले बहुत अच्छे गुरु... जिनसे बहुत कुछ सीखने मिला। उनका समर्पण देखते बनता हैं।

आज की यह रचना , समर्पित है सभी... गुरुजन को, सभी शिक्षकों को...

भ्रम के जाल काट, सत्य की ओर ले चले कोई।

जब घर ले हाथ गुरु, राह कैसे भटके कोई।।

बहता पानी, हाथों में कैसे ठहरेगा।

पढ़ ले लाख पन्ने, ज्ञान गुरु से ही मिलेगा।।

अगणित तारे, अनंत फैला आकाश असीमित हैं।

अगणित तेरी जिज्ञासाएँ, एक मार्ग गुरु अपरिमित हैं।।

एक गुरु मिले ऐसा, जो तेरा तुझसे परिचय करा दे।

एक गुरु हो ऐसा, कोयला दबा हीरा बना दे।।

गुरु पर विश्वास ऐसा अखंड करें।

करें स्वयं का शतशः समर्पण शून्य अपना घमंड करे।।

इस राह चले या दूजा पथ कोई।

डगर-डगर, मोड़-मोड़ पर मोह के आकर्ष है।।

गुरु लगा ये मन पर अंकुश कोई।

घेरता प्रश्नों का बवंडर, गुरु बिन पार कैसे लगे कोई।।

जब घरले हाथ गुरु, राह कैसे भटके कोई...

जीवन : गुरु की दिशा (कविता)

“गुरुर्ब्रह्मा गुरुर्विष्णुः गुरुर्देवो महेश्वरः।
गुरुर्साक्षात् परंब्रह्मा तस्मै श्री गुरुवे नमः॥

ये संस्कृति है हमारी, इन्ही संस्कारों में
ही हम पले हैं। हम अपने गुरु को, अपने
शिक्षकों को ब्रह्मा, विष्णु, महेश इनका
स्वरूप मानते हैं। ऐसे ही गुरु को नमन
करते हुए, प्रस्तुत हैं कुछ पंक्तियाँ :-

कोई शिल्प कार मानो,
पत्थर को देता आकार,
कोई कच्ची मिट्टी तपा कर,
मिटता हो विकार।

भाग्य विधाता कहूँ तुम्हें,
या भाग्य रचयिता,
ज्ञान का अविरल स्रोत...,
जिसमें हो बहता।

जो निःस्वार्थ पथ दिखलाता,
किसी को बनाने में
जो स्वयं मिट जाता।

वो ऐसा ज्ञान का भंडार है,
जिस पर हर निष्ठावान
का अधिकार है।

जहाँ गुरु-रूप प्रकाश विद्यमान हो,
वहाँ कैसे फिर अज्ञानता
का अंधकार हो।

ब्रह्मा, विष्णु, महेश का प्रारूप है, वह गुरु धरती पर हमें देव स्वरूप है।

!! ईश्वरीय रचना !! (लेख)

कोई भी आवेदन नहीं किया था,
किसी की भी सिफारिश नहीं थी, ऐसा कोई असामान्य कार्य भी नहीं है,
फिर भी सिर के बालों से लेकर पैर के अंगूठे तक 24 घंटे भगवान,
तू रक्त प्रवाहित करता है. जीभ पर नियमित अभिषेक कर रहा है...
निरंतर तू मेरा ये हृदय चलाता है।

चलने वाला कौनसा यंत्र तूने फिट कर दिया है हे भगवान...
पैर के नाखून से लेकर सिर के बालों तक
बिना रुकावट संदेश वाहन करने वाली प्रणाली...
किस अदृश्य शक्ति से चल रही है, कुछ समझ नहीं आता।
हड्डियों और मांस में बनने वाला रक्त कौनसा अद्वितीय आर्किटेक्चर है।
इसका मुझे कोई अंदाजा नहीं है।

हजार-हजार मेगापिक्सल वाले दो-दो कैमरे दिन-रात सारे दृश्य कैद कर रहे हैं।
दस-दस हजार टेस्ट करने वाली जीभ नाम की टेस्टर,
अनगिनत संवेदनाओं का अनुभव कराने वाली त्वचा नाम की सेंसर प्रणाली...
और... अलग-अलग फ्रीक्वेंसी की आवाज पैदा करने वाली स्वर प्रणाली
और उन फ्रीक्वेंसी का कोडिंग-डीकोडिंग करने वाले कान नाम का यंत्र...
पचहत्तर प्रतिशत पानी से भरा शरीर रूपी टैंकर
हजारों छेद होने के बावजूद कहीं भी लीक नहीं होता...

स्टैंड के बिना मैं खड़ा रह सकता हूँ... गाड़ी के टायर घिसते हैं,
पर पैर के तलवे कभी नहीं घिसते। अद्भुत ऐसी रचना है।
देखभाल, स्मृति, शक्ति, शांति ये सब भगवान तू देता है।
तू ही अंदर बैठकर शरीर चला रहा है।
अद्भुत है यह सब, अविश्वसनीय, असमझनीय।

ऐसे शरीर रूपी मशीन में हमेशा तू ही है,
इसका अनुभव कराने वाली आत्मा भगवान
तूने ऐसा कुछ फिट कर दिया है कि और क्या तुझसे मांगू
तेरे इस जीवा शिवा के खेल का निश्चल,
निस्वार्थ आनंद का हिस्सा रहूँ!... ऐसी सदबुद्धि मुझे दे!!

तूही यह सब संभालता है इसका अनुभव मुझे हमेशा रहे!!
रोज पल-पल कृतज्ञता से तेरा ऋणी होने का स्मरण, चिंतन हो,
यही परमेश्वर के चरणों में प्रार्थना है!!

सफलता की कुंजी (कविता)

जो थक कर बिना रुके, वही बाजीगर होता है।
जो झुके नहीं मुश्किलों में, वही सिकंदर होता है।
सफलता इंतजार नहीं करती किसी की।
हर पल को पकड़ना ही असली हुनर होता है।

काम करो ऐसा कि एक पहचान बन जाए।
हर कदम ऐसा चलो कि निशान बन जाए।।
यहाँ जिंदगी तो हर कोई काट लेता है।
जिंदगी जियो इस कदर कि मिसाल बन जाए।

फर्क होता है खुदा और फ़कीर में।
फर्क होता है किस्मत और लकीर में।
अगर कुछ चाहो और न मिले तो समझ लेना।
कि कुछ और अच्छा लिखा है तक्दीर में।।

माँ

माँ शब्द नहीं, एक पूरी दुनिया है, जिसमें हर दर्द खुद से छोटा लगे।
उसकी हँसी में सुकून बसता है, और आँचल में हर गम पिघल जाए।
बिना कहे सब समझ लेती है, मेरी खामोशी की हर बात।
खुद भूखी रहकर भी दे देती है, मुस्कान में छुपी अपनी सौगात।
थक जाए जब दुनिया की राहें, तो माँ ही बनती है आस।
उसकी दुआओं की छाया में, हर मुश्किल हार जाए खास।
भगवान अगर कहीं न दिखे, तो माँ में उनका रूप मिले।
इस धरती पर सबसे पवित्र नाम, बस 'माँ' ही सच में अमर रहे।

विद्यालय संस्कारों की पाठशाला

यह है मेरा प्यारा स्कूल, यहाँ खिलते शिक्षा के फूल।
सिर्फ किताबें पढ़ना ही नहीं, सीखते हम जीवन के मूल।
विद्यालय एक मंदिर है, संस्कारों का सुंदर घर है।
गुरुजन देते ज्ञान की ज्योति, मिट जाता अज्ञान का डर है।
सत्य बोलना, बड़ों का आदर, यही सिखाते गुरु जी सादर।
मिल-जुलकर रहना हम सीखते, मानवता का पाठ पढ़ते।
अच्छे गुण अपनाते हम, बुरे व्यसनों को तुकराते हम
जीवन को सही राह दिखाता, विद्यालय हर दिन महकाता।
यह पाठशाला अनमोल हमारी, बचपन की यादें बनती प्यारी।
यहाँ पढ़कर हम बनते महान, विद्यालय है संस्कारों की खान।

‘नमन बलिदानी वीरों को’

करने आए हैं हम नमन
बलिदानी वीरों का।
चल पड़ते थे जो अंगारों पर
मातृभूमि को करके नमन।
उम्र ना पूछो, धर्म न पूछो
इस मिट्टी के रखवालो की।
चल पड़े जो अंधियारों में
अत्याचारों का करने अंत।
लहू बहाया धरती पर
जैसे बहता हो गंगा का पावन जल।
नहीं रुके यह, नहीं झुके यह,
वीर अमर बलिदानी थे।
कल का सूरज देखेंगे वह,
अपने ध्वज के नीचे।
करके प्रण जब बड़े कदम
अंग्रेजों के भी छक्के छूटे थे।
कोई नरम था, कोई गरम था
कोई थी बेटी जैसे लक्ष्मीबाई।
आजाद होगा देश हमारा
मन में सबने ठानी थी।

‘शिक्षक राह का दीपक’

रोज़ सुबह मिलते हैं इनसे, क्या हमको करना है यह बतलाते हैं।
लेकर तस्वीरे इंसानों की, सही गलत का भेद हमें यह बतलाते हैं।
कभी डांट तो कभी प्यार से, कितना कुछ हमको यह समझाते हैं।
है भविष्य देश का जिनमें, उनका भविष्य यह बनाते हैं।
है रंग कहीं इस जीवन में, रंगों की दुनिया से पहचान यह करवाते हैं।
खो न जाए भीड़ में कहीं हम, हम को हम से ही यह मिलवाते हैं।
हार हार के फिर लड़ना ही जीत है सच्ची, ऐसा एहसास भी हमको करवाते हैं।
कोशिश करते रहना हर पल, जीवन का अर्थ हमें यह बतलाते हैं।
देते हैं नेक मंजिले भी हमें, राह भी बेहतर हमें दिखलाते हैं।
देते हैं ज्ञान जीवन का, काम यही सब है इनका,
यह शिक्षक कहलाते हैं। यह शिक्षक कहलाते हैं।।

‘दादी का दर्पण’

सम्मुख बैठी दर्पण के ढूँढ़ती वो दिन बचपन के,
बिसरा अम्मा-बाबा का आँगन आ गए दिन पचपन के ।
ना जाने कहाँ गई दादी की परियों की कहानियाँ,
दादा जी की छड़ी-चश्मा छुपाने की नहीं नादानियाँ ।
बारिश की बूंदों में वो कागज की कश्तियाँ चलाना,
शौक था, खिलौने वो मिट्टी के घरोंदे-महल बनाना ।
इतवार के दिन बाबा संग जब जलेबियाँ सब खाते थे,
मानो जैसे किसी का जन्मदिन या त्योहार हम मनाते थे ।
अम्मा का चूल्हा भोर- सायं काल तक जलता रहता,
चटनी रोटी खाते-खाते कभी ना मन भर पाता ।
नानी के घर तो मस्त रसीले आमों के रस में खो जाते,
इमली, बैर, एक, पैसे की चूरण गोली में मन से खुश हो जाते ।
कहाँ है वो नीलगगन जिसमें फूल-तितलियों संग मेले थे,
गुड्डे-गुड़ियाँ, छुपन-छुपाई, गिल्ली-डण्डा सखियों संग खेले थे ।
सखी-सहेलियों संग सज-धज के टोला निकले त्योहारों पर,
रोनक सी आ जाती थी बाजारों, गलियों और चौबारों पर ।
कंचन पल थे वो भी जब अम्मा बालों को सहलाती थी,
मेरी हर पीड़ा-अश्रुओं को अपने आँचल में छुपाती थी ।
निशा या काल जैसे केशों में कब रजत-चंद्रिका सी छा जाती थी,
कब बिटियाँ से बहु बनी , कब बहु से अम्मा और अम्मा से दादी बन गई थी ।
जिम्मेदारियों की डोर थामें घर-परिवार को संजोने में,
थम सा गया वक्त उमंगों का पल है यादों को पिरोने में ।
मुस्कुराकर बोली दादी मेरी लाडो मन से जीना क्षण-क्षण,
आ जाते दिन पचपन के लौटकर ना आते वो दिन बचपन के, बचपन के ।

अरावली धरती की शान

अरावली है धरती की शान,
हजारों वर्षों की पहचान ।
वन, वन्यजीव, नदियों की शान,
इसी से सुरक्षित धरती महान ।
रेगिस्तान को बाँधे रखती,
सूखे में भी जीवन रचती ।
यहीं से बहता जल अनमोल,
वन – पशु करते इसका बोल ।
हरियाली की ढाल बनी,
धरती की ये रखवाली बनी ।
पर लालच ने इसकी जड़ें हिलाई ,
खनन ने हरियाली मिटाई ।
कटते पहाड़ , सूखती धार,
रो रही है प्रकृति बार – बार ।
पेड़ लगाएँ खनन रोकें,
प्रकृति से फिर नाते जोड़ें ।
अब भी समय है, चेत जाएँ,
अरावली को हम बचाएँ ।
पेड़ , पहाड़, जल को बचाओं,
आओं मिलकर अरावली बचाओं ।

“ईमानदारी अनमोल गुण”

ईमानदारी जिसे अक्सर सबसे अच्छी नीति कहा जाता है। यह सत्य निष्ठा सच्चाई और नैतिक सिद्धान्तों के प्रति दृढ़ता को दर्शाता है। एक ईमानदार व्यक्ति न केवल अपने शब्दों और कार्यों में सच्चा होता है बल्कि वह दूसरों के साथ भी निष्पक्ष और न्याय पूर्ण व्यवहार करता है।

ईमानदारी केवल सच बोलने तक ही सीमित नहीं है बल्कि इसमें अपनी जिम्मेदारियों को ईमानदारी से निभाना, दूसरों के प्रति जवाबदेह होना और गलत काम करने से बचना शामिल है। व्यक्तिगत जीवन में यह विश्वास और सम्मान का आधार बनती है। समाज में इससे भ्रष्टाचार कम होता है। न्याय को बढ़ावा मिलता है। हालांकि ईमानदारी का मार्ग कभी-कभी कठिन होता है लेकिन इसके दीर्घकालिक लाभ हमेशा क्षणिक स्वार्थ से कहीं अधिक होते हैं।
